The Editor's column

S. R. PADDOCK

We took a terrific shellacking in the Arlington Heights Township high school election last Saturday. We bow to the wishes of the majority. That is the American way of "over throwing" a government.

We are just glad that we do not live in Iran, Egypt or other countries of the middle east. We would have either been dead, in prison, or fleeing the country.

After such a victory, we can expect that the victors will nominate and probably elect at least two new members on the board of education. We are certain that the committee of one hundred will select men or women who are interested in our schools.

The election is over, but the enrollment problem is still with us. We hope the victors will allow us to make a prediction just for the records. We want to be able to say some time in the furture, "We told you so."

As Winchel would say, "WE PREDICT that before 1960 a high school will be standing on the Foundry road site."

We note that Sunday schools are also having enrollment problems. The Sunday school addition completed 15 months ago by Palatine M. E. church is too small and double sessions are now necessary.

St. Paul Sunday School at Palatine has been operating on a double shift. The congregation has given approval to an $80,000 educational addition.

As long as the law of gravity continues there is no way that a community or an individual can sit down and slide up hill.

The communities of Glenview and Northbrook dedicated their new $2,650,000 high school last Sunday. It is located on 71 acres of land, 53 acres of which is being utilized.

Dr. Watson in his remarks said that the three "R's" are still being taught in that school.

We wondered how it could be done when the greater part of the 47 faculty members hold masters' and doctors' degrees as was evidenced by the caps, gowns and colorful stoles they wore that day.

From what some magazines say, many of our school systems are so busy on the educational frills that many pupils do not learn how to read, spell or write.

Our schools are facing a bit of "reverse English" in the teacher problem. An army of boys and girls are besieging our school system while the teachers are hard to find. Local school superintendents put part of the blame on California and other western states where higher salaries and a teaching contract awaits all who apply.

We have to find the school rooms to accommodate the pupils but we have to find the money that will keep those teachers with us.

Why should we let such small things as lack of parking facilities bother us?

Palatine is going to celebrate a store's birthday about April first and, as T. C. Hart says in a news story this week, "it will not be any April fool."

Schoppe's, which has been on the same corner and under the same management since 1894, will have open house that day.

"No goods sold," says Harry. "We will be so busy playing host to our friends, we will not have time to operate the cash register."

1954 could be celebrated as the centennial by Arlington Heights and Palatine. It was all farm land until the arrival of the railroad in 1854. William H. Dunton in Arlington, and Joe Wood in Palatine, were the original realtors who platted the first streets.

There was no planning commission or zoning board to inquire as to their intentions. Paved streets, curbs and sidewalks were dreams of the future.

A patron of Arlington Heights high school told us Saturday that he thought our boys and girls would be better prepared for life if they had to walk to school. He lived 2½ miles from the school house and ran the distance twice every day.

We agree with him. Those school buses, milking machines and automobiles are undermining the stamina of our youth. They are so busy doing nothing, they haven't time to be a success in life.

After getting down this far in our column without saying a thing about parking troubles in Arlington Heights, we can be excused if we brush aside the snowstorm of votes that engulfed us last Saturday and timidly suggest that a "committee of 100" be formed to save our business district from strangulation by the residential area.

The purchase of present business property for parking purposes is expensive. The purchase of residential property for parking areas would make the job a lot easier.

We understand that the Planning Commission and the Zoning Board of Appeals will soon confer on future uses of residential property adjoining present business district and on possible industrial areas.

Time Marches On. Where do we go from here?

Voters Defeat Bond Issue Over 2 to 1; 7,644 Cast

Voters of Arlington Heights township district overwhelmingly turned down last Saturday the $2,500,000 bond issue for a second high school.

The propositions appearing on the ballot were defeated over four to one in Wheeling, Prospect Heights and Elk Grove. Sentiment in Mount Prospect was about evenly divided. Arlington Heights voters opposed the bond issue over two to one. There were 7,644 votes cast, the greatest in any school election ever held.

The board of education of Arlington Heights high school district wishes to thank the many voters who braved the elements last Saturday to exercise their rights to vote.

The board will give careful consideration to the matter and will inform the public as to its plans at a later date.

Persons identified with the opposition state frankly that they consider the result as a mandate by the voters. Their first step will be the nomination of two candidates for the board.

REV. KLEPPER

Rev. Klepper To Speak At United Prayer Service

Christians all around the globe will be observing the annual World Day of Prayer March 5. A group of nine churches from Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Wheeling is planning a united service beginning at 1:30 p. m. at the Arlington Heights Methodist church that day. Members of all participating churches will have a part in the order of worship.

The main speaker of the day will be Rev. Mrs. Robert F. Klepper, associate pastor of the Prospect Heights Community Community church. It was quite an item of interest when Rev. Klepper was ordained into the ministry this past October, since comparatively few women have thus far entered the Christian ministry.

Rev. Klepper received her B. A. degree from Elmhurst college and her divinity degree was obtained from Union Theological seminary in New York. Besides her many services to the church, Rev. Klepper has also been active in a number of worthwhile community enterprises.

Rev. Charles Will, who has recently come to serve the Evangelical Free church of Arlington Heights, will sing, "In the Secret of His Presence," and "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked." Mrs. Earl Johnston will accompany him at the organ.

As in the past, the offering taken at this service will be used for welfare and educational purposes both here and abroad. The public is invited to join in this service. (F

Bandits Hold Up Tavern; Make Off With $264

"God helps those who help themselves," was the cry of the two bandits as they left Rudy's Tavern on State and Higgins rd., last Wednesday evening after taking $231 from two cash registers and another $23 from the wallets of a customer and the bartender.

Mrs. Rudy Beneke, who operates the tavern with her husband, said the two men looked to be in their early twenties. When they entered the tavern they offered a greeting to the bartender and when he asked them what they wanted to drink, they pulled out guns and said, "This is a stick-up."

While one guarded the door the other looted the cash registers and made the men in the tavern take out their wallets. County and state highway police are working on the case.

Victors Announce Plans For Adequate School Facilities

At the request of the editor, the Committee of One Hundred has prepared the following outline of their plans. It is answering questions which probably everyone is asking.

In a turn-out of voters which brought more than 7,300 citizens of Elk Grove and Wheeling townships to the polls in inclement weather on Saturday, February 27, the Committee of One Hundred, which opposed the proposed high school bond issue, scored a striking victory, with approximately 70% of the voters approving the opposition viewpoint.

More than 5,000 voters accepted the views of the committee and voted against the issue, as compared with approximately 2,300 who supported the proposals. An unofficial tabulation of the votes cast gave the victors a plurality of more than 2 to 1 in an election which showed them to have carried all the six precincts, including Mount Prospect, where the proposed new school was to be located.

Leaders in the Committee of One Hundred have accepted the result as a mandate to continue with their plans for seeking the solution of local school problems, including the designing of an over-all educational program which will give consideration to growing need for school facilities in the two townships. It is planned to seek the advice of competent educational authorities who can help in determining what facilities are required for future expansion.

Announcing a "Creed" to which the members of the Committee are pledged, J. E. Millay, Chairman, states that these are some of the Committee's objectives:

"We believe in adequate school facilities.

"We believe that no one should make an undisclosed profit from a public enterprise.

"We believe that citizen leadership should be consulted before tax proposals are advanced.

"We believe that tax economies begin at home—not at Washington, D. C.

"We believe that members of a public board should be supported as candidates only after the general citizenship has had an opportunity to weigh their qualifications for office.

"We believe that local school facilities should be provided for the blind and otherwise handicapped children.

"We believe that a tax dollar should bring a full dollar's worth of value for the citizenship who have the bill to pay.

"We believe that it is our obligation to stand ready to aid every worthy and justifiable school expansion program—but it must be justifiable.

"We believe that agreements affecting our public affairs should not be reached behind closed doors, but in the open, where we can all understand their import.

"We believe that it is every citizen's privilege to express his opinion on a public issue, free from personal attack.

"To these principles, we pledge our continuing interest and support—we will not be satisfied with less."

Continuing with his statement, Millay said: "It is the conviction of the Committee of One Hundred that we are entitled to an impartial audit of the high school books by a disinterested, professional firm of public accountants—we are not interested in a casual review of school activities taken from the board minutes, and merely qualified as such.

"We demand a cost-accounting report on the unit-activities of the high school—we want to find out what the solid, and the "frill" activities of the high school are costing all of our citizens. And we are much interested in the "miscellaneous" factor in our high school budget costs.

"We intend to take an active and effective interest in the selection of future candidates for the high school board. We intend to be represented at future high school board meetings, and we believe

Car Thieves Caught By Wheeling Police

A series of thefts, involving an estimated $2500 worth of merchandise was brought to a stop in Wheeling Saturday with the arrest of two Chicago teen-age youths by Wheeling policeman Robert Wiest. The thefts were made within a period of three days.

The theft which brought upon the arrest of the boys was made on their return trip from Wauconda. According to the confession made by one of the boys, they had gone there in a stolen car, to deliver a camera "ordered" by a friend there, whom they were unable to find. On their way back to Chicago, they stole a car in Mundelein, which they abandoned in Half Day, where they stole a 1953 Cadillac. When they arrived in Wheeling, they thought the Cadillac was too "hot" and picked up the car owned by Sue Spicer, parked in her driveway in Wille ave., Wheeling. Her father heard the car being driven away.

TWO MINUTES after receiving the report of the car stolen in Wheeling, Wiest overtook the car at Mors ave. and Milwaukee rd. and apprehended the two boys, who were 16 and 17 years old.

In a signed six and one-half page long confession made to the police by one of the boys, it was disclosed they had stolen at least twelve cars, which were abandoned shortly after they were taken, many of the stolen articles having been taken from the cars before they were abandoned. Among other articles they confessed to have stolen was a long list of radios, tires, luggage, an adding machine, a check protector, electric shaver, moving picture camera, several other valuable cameras, a German luger automatic pistol and clothing.

ALL OF THE goods reported stolen have since been recovered by Wheeling Police Chief George Brautigan, Juvenile Officer Hinks of County District 1 and Wheeling's Mayor, Edward Gieseke Jr. A good part of the "loot" was recovered from a television sales store in Chicago.

Two employees of the store, a Mr. Lucas and a Mr. Dewit were arrested and charged with receiving stolen goods and contributing to the delinquency of minors. They were fined $200 and $50 respectively and were put on a year's probation.

Some of the loot was recovered from individuals to whom it had been sold and some of it was found stored in a garage.

Police Issuing Tickets To Motorists Who Have Not Bought Vehicle Tag

The Arlington Heights police began issuing tickets to all citizens who had not purchased their 1954 vehicle tags by March 1. Arrests are also being made if the tag has been purchased but is not properly displayed on the windshield of the car.

To avoid paying a fine for not having a sticker Chief of Police Carl H. Skoog urges all citizens to purchase their tag immediately. They may be obtained at the village hall, 107 W. Davis.

As of March 9 the police will begin arresting all motorists who have not purchased their 1954 state license plates.

Boy, 4, Seriously Injures Right Arm In Elevator Accident

John Vetter, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vetter, Arlington Heights, was seriously injured February 22, when his arm was caught in an elevator at Mandel's store in Chicago.

He was taken to St. Luke's hospital, Chicago, where it was found his right arm was dislocated below the elbow, had a slight fracture at elbow, and badly torn at the shoulder. He spent several hours in the operating room and his arm is now in a cast. It will be several more days before the extent of the injury can be fully ascertained.

February Building Breaks Record In Arlington

Permits for 109 new single family homes in Arlington Hts. were issued during February totaling $1,616,600, to break all home building records for that month in any previous year. The only other February to come near the figure was in 1950 when 106 permits were issued totaling $1,271,000.

Eighty-one of the permits were for the Virginia Terrace subdivision.

Membership Drive For Concert Series March 8-13

The seventh annual membership drive of the Arlington Heights Community Concert association will be held the week of March 8. Final details are completed, and the success for this seventh year depends entirely upon the support of the people of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Wheeling, Prospect Heights, Palatine, Inverness and surrounding neighborhoods.

A great many volunteer workers will contact everybody possible to give them the opportunity of belonging to the association in order that they may enjoy the top musical concert artists of the world.

Anyone wishing to join who is not contacted by a worker should go to the concert headquarters which is established at the Public Service company office in Arlington Heights, at 101 W. Campbell.

Memberships are available for one week only, March 8 through March 13, after which none are available for one year. No single admissions are sold.

A MEMBERSHIP in the concert association entitles each member to attend all concerts given during the fall and winter season of 1954-55. Memberships are $6 for adults and $3.50 for students. This is one of the greatest bargains available today. Five concerts have been given this year. Where can anyone hear the top musicians and singers of the world for such prices?

This past season featured Virtuosi Di Roma, Lesile Bell Singers, Sascha Gorodnitzki, Mildred Dilling, and Eugene Conley, the latter concert to be given Sunday, at the high school, at 8:15 p.m. Other attractions over the years have included: Gladys Swarthout, Mata and Hari, St. Louis Symphonette, Philharmonic Piano Quartet, Men of Song, De Paur chorus, Gershwin Concert orchestra and many others.

TWO OF THE outstanding attractions that have been engaged and will appear in Arlington Heights this next season are the 80 piece Rochester Symphony orchestra and the Carolers from the Fred Waring show. These two together with two or three others offer a variety that should suit the taste of everyone. More than 7000 persons have heard the 25 concerts during the past seasons, most of whom renew their memberships year after year, which should speak well for the series.

The Community Concert association is a non-profit organization conducted by a group of people who volunteer their time and efforts. All money taken in during the one week membership drive is spent for talent outside of a very few nominal expenses. Therefore the greater the membership the more money that is available for talent, and the greatest talent of the world is available to the association.

Tax Rate See-Sawing Limits Major Increases To Eight Cents

While the individual tax rates of the various governing bodies show a see-saw up and down pattern, the net result is higher tax bills for Elk Grove and Wheeling township property owners.

This is mainly due to increased elementary school costs. The high school district 214 is one of the few with a lower rate, dropping from $.876 last year to $.872 this year.

Arlington Heights total 1953 rate is $3.738, an increase of 7½ cents over the 1952 rate of $3.662.

Mount Prospect's total rate went up a little over 8 cents, from $3.712 to $3.794.

Both villages are considerably over the rate for the city of Chicago announced a week ago.

THE OVER-ALL rate for the village of Wheeling jumped greatly, from $2.774 last year to $2.96 this year.

Besides the high school, only school district 24 dropped its rate from $1.056 to $1.054. Elk Grove consolidated district 59 held its own, with the rate remaining $1.31. Palatine consolidated school district 15 took the greatest jump from $1.166 to $1.646, the highest school rate in the area. Mount Prospect 57 is a close second, with a rate increase of 16 cents to $1.616. Forest View district 56 raised its rate 18 cents to $1.176. Arlington Heights district 25 went up only five cents, to $1.53.

FEEHANVILLE district 26 remains the lowest rate in the area, being only $.858. Prospect Heights district 23 advanced 25 cents to $1.55, and Wheeling district 21 advanced 23 cents to $1.228.

Mount Prospect village rate is down to only $.542, and the village of Wheeling also cut its rate by 1 cent, but Arlington Heights is up an even 6 cents to $.624.

Lower rates for the county, forest preserve and sanitary district have helped keep the total rates from soaring.

Because the Elk Grove township road and bridge rate is $.10 compared with only $.076 in Wheeling township, taxpayers in the same village and school district, but different townships, will notice a slight variation in the total rates.

The levies made by School District No. 21 and District 23, without increased valuations or material rate reductions by other taxing bodies in that area, means a total increase of 19 cents in the village of Wheeling and 25 cents in Prospect Heights.

Neither Wheeling nor Elk Grove townships levied any corporate tax. Elk Grove also omitted a relief tax. Wheeling has levied .028.

The Wheeling Road and Bridge .076 and the T.B. Sanitarium .076 are the same as last year.

The Arlington Park district rate is not increased. It is the same as in previous year.

In the following figures will be found the individual tax rates to taxing bodies and the total rate for the various school districts.

Mayor Casts Deciding Vote To Permit Variation

Mayor Albert W. Goedke cast the deciding vote at the Arlington Heights village board meeting Tuesday night to permit a variation in lot sizes in Unit 2 of the Arlington Greens subdivision.

The tie vote was cast when the board was divided in its opinion of whether or not a precedent to the newly passed ordinance regulating lot sizes would be set by permitting the variation. Trustees William Luehring, Charles Rehfeldt and David Zimmerman felt that since there were only 10 acres of land involved and since the developer, Joe Horowitz, was dedicating approximately three of the acres for street purposes, he deserved consideration for the variation in lot sizes.

THE DEVELOPER will open streets that heretofore have been blocked and will give new ingresses and egresses to the entire new development in the area. Trustees Richard Bronwell, Robert Bishop and Edward Carlisle stood firm on the new ordinance and voted against accepting the plat.

Unit 2 of Arlington Greens, which is bounded on the south by Oakton, west by Belmont and east by Douglas, will contain 40 lots.

The board awarded the bid for the Pine st. relief sewer to the low bidder, George D. Hardin, Chicago. Hardin bid $8,345. Bids for the sale of three lots owned by the village were rejected by the board on the basis they were not a fair offer for the property involved.

TRUSTEE Robert Bishop sought the board's approval to hire the village engineers to make a complete survey of the water system in Arlington Heights in respect to installing a village water softening plant. The survey would take approximately four months and would cost $2,200. The engineer's final report would advise the village on the feasibility, costs and upkeep of such a system. If they recommend such a service the board would then put the matter before the public for its consideration.

No decision was made and the board will further discuss the matter at the March 16 meeting.

The village will seek to relieve the flooded conditions along Beverley lane in the Laurinwood subdivision by relocating outlets in low spots and putting in new ones where necessary. They will also repair the holes in the street. Work will begin as soon as weather permits.

Start Wrecking Of Former Old Folks Home

American Wrecking Co. started the wrecking of the former Old Folks Home at Arlington Heights Tuesday morning. Trude Land Development Co. will start construction on the first unit of 90 apartments within ten days.

The land secured extends beyond the old building and the wrecking activities will not disturb new construction. A building permit for the first unit has been issued by the village. It will contain 12 one-bedroom apartments, estimated cost, $75,000.

As previously announced by the Trude organization, teachers are to be given preference, and 26 of them have already filed their applications. The buildings will be constructed of brick. It is Mr. Trude's plan to rush the construction as fast as possible.

While the project is, of course, a business venture on the part of the realty firm, it is because the interest Mr. Trude has in Arlington schools that he is giving preference to those employed by our schools.

Local school heads agree that the Trude project will greatly aid them in securing new teachers.

Edwin D. Rose, vice-president of American Wrecking Co., is estimating that the demolition of the old building will be completed in 90 days. That firm is advertising material for sale.

To Reopen Driver Test Station In Arlington

Announcement was made this week that the state of Illinois will reopen its driver test station in Arlington Heights in the near future. Headquarters will again be at the village hall. Actual date of the opening will be revealed in a few days.

Heads Red Cross Drive In Heights

Mrs. Frank S. Harris, 831 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, has been appointed by Harold Meidell, chairman of the county communities division of the 1954 Red Cross fund campaign, to carry the Red Cross appeal to the people of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Harris will lead a corps of volunteers for the month long March campaign.

According to Mrs. Harris, the local drive will be in full swing by March 10. She has been working getting her area chairmen lined up for the work ahead. Those who will head the areas are as follows:

Mesdames H. Menick, Donald Coffman, J. Good, J. K. Blackwell, Eber Cline, D. Hamachek, John Huskey, C. J. Loechl, J. Hall, E. L. Stauffacher, Allen Jones, J. R. Sauve, Robert Fine, and L. A. Simpson.

Final Report On Community Chest Drive; Tell Distribution

In a final report to the Arlington Heights Community Chest board of directors, the budget committee of that group revealed that the 1953 Red Feather Drive had yielded $15,087.96, or slightly over $6,000 short of its budgeted quota.

Despite the fact that the Chest did not meet the budgeted allotments, five of the youth groups operating within the village will receive more money to carry on their work than they did after last year's Fund Drive.

BY ADOPTING the report of the budget committee, the board voted to disallow the $1,200 allotment for the Heart Fund. All participating agencies in the Community Chest agree prior to their requests for inclusion in the Chest's budget, not to carry on any further general fund-raising canvass. The Heart Fund refuted this understanding to carry on a searate drive which was concluded recently.

The Girl Scouts and Brownies had requested a budget allowance of $6,008 for this year, on the understanding that should the Chest fail to make its desired quota, its request would be cut to $4,500. The Girl Scouts and Brownies estimate that the difference between these two figures can be made up through a cooky sale, which they had planned to drop this year.

With this request dropped to a base of $4,500, and the Heart Fund allotment eliminated, the board adopted the recommendation that all funds be paid at the rate of 80 per cent of the participating agencies' requests, which were announced during the Red Feather Drive. The schedule of requests, actual payments, and comparative figures showing the difference between this and last year's payments are shown in the accompanying tabulations.

	53-54 Request	53-54 Payment	52-53 Payment

THE $155.96 difference between the amount collected in the 1953-54 Community Chest Fund Drive and the actual amount in payments made has been allocated for emergency welfare relief work within the village. Of this amount, $100 has already been spent for fuel and food to alleviate hardship in one case.

Additional funds which might become avialable to the Community Chest will go towards this emergency fund, with one exception: the board adopted a motion which provides that "should any substantial amounts (anything in excess of $500) be received at a later date, such amounts will be disbursed to the various agencies included in the budget on the same relationship as their individually budgeted amounts bear to the total budget."

Winding up his term as president of the Arlington Heights Community Chest, Henry Hutten complimented the local organization on a "very successful campaign.

"OUR DEAREST community possession is our youth. For five of the six youth groups in Arlington Heights, we have been able to make considerable budgetary improvements over last year. I think there can be no question but that our work has been a success."

He thanked all who gave during and subsequent to the Red Feather Fund Drive, but he singled out for special praise those persons who participated in the house-to-house canvass.

"These are the persons primarily responsible for any success the Arlington Heights Community Chest might claim. To each of them goes the grateful and heartfelt thanks of the organization and the particiapting agencies."

Eugene Conley, Met Star, To Sing Here Sunday

The final concert of the 1953-54 season will be held Sunday evening at Arlington Heights high school. Guest artist will be the great Metropolitan opera tenor, Eugene Conley.

Conley was born in Lynn, Mass., of Iresh-English ancestry. His parents were decendants of the first New York settlers who had fled to Nova Scotia during the Revolution. Conley had a normal boyhood life, belonged to the Boy Scouts, played on the high school baseball team and participated in track. His father held musical get-togethers Saturday nights and young Gene would entertain the crowd by singing and tap dancing.

Conley began to think of a singing career when he left high school. He joined the Boston male choir and toured the country with it until he made his debut. His singing attracted attention of radio station WWJ in Detroit, and for the next year his repertoire included everything from symphony to the classics.

All the while he was singing he was studying. He continued his radio work with the National Broadcasting company. Later he joined the San Carlo Opera company and the New Opera company. The war interrupted his career, while he served with the army air force. After his discharge he took up his singing career where he left off.

He had success after success as soloist with orchestras and opera companies and when he made his debut in the title role of "Faust" at the Metropolitan Opera house January 24, 1950, he was greeted with ovation after ovation.

This winter season five concerts have been given by the Arlington Heights Community Concert association, which has a total membership of 1300.

The week immediately following the concert is Community Concert membership drive week. Memberships are available to everyone for the concert season of 1954-55, at $6 for adults and $3.50 for students. Headquarters will be established for this one week at the Public Service company in Arlington Heights.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN MOIRE

There are only two permanent moires on the market.

They are the cellulose acetate ("celanese") moire and nylon moire. The designs on these moires are achieved by running them through heated engraved rolls and melting the fabric into them. It is easily recognized because it comes in a long wavy pattern which is the same on both sides of the fabric.

"Scratch Moire" is quite serviceable, but is only semi-permanent. It too, is celanese or nylon, but the design usually comes in small "repeating" patterns.

For the rest, the regenerated rayon moires, the silk moires, and most of the cotton moires are not permanent, and will lose that much valued design upon cleaning. There is only one permanent cotton moire. Its effect is produced by embossing a plastic coating on the fabric and curing at high temperature.

We believe your merchant will know if a moire is permanent or not. If there is some doubt, ask us.

Of course, we'll be glad to advise you at any time as to the serviceability of any fabric. Knowing fabrics is our business.

And for good cleaning

CIRCLING THE TOWN
BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Congratulations are in order for the Girl Scouts, because next week they celebrate, during annual Girl Scout week, their forty-second anniversary. With "Know Your Neighbors,—Know Your Nation" as their theme, the girls are planning visits to historic sites, displays and exhibits. The week will begin Sunday when various troops and their leaders will attend churches of their choice as a group.

Anniversary week celebrates the founding of the girl scouting movement by Juliette Low, and she patterned it after the Girl Guides of England. Now there are more than 2,000,000 girls enrolled in the various phases of scouting—Brownies, Intermediates and Seniors.

So congratulations to the Girl Scouts of Arlington Heights during their anniversary week.

World Day of Prayer

Traditionally the first Friday in Lent is World Day of Prayer, observed by Christians in 20,000 communities in our country and more than 100 countries around the world. United Church Women of the United States are sponsoring the day in this country.

Locally, the Methodist church will be the meeting place for women of nine nearby protestant churches, starting at 1:30 p.m. Speaker for the day will be Mrs. Robert Klepper, an ordained minister and co-pastor of the Prospect Heights Community church.

Other Arlington churches participating are Presbyterian, St. John Evangelical and Reofrmed and the Evangelical Free. Traditionally, offerings on the World Day of Prayer have been given to specialized inter-denomination programs in this country. This year it is hoped that support may be given to new projects here and in Alaska, Europe and Africa.

All women of the community are invited to attend the World Day of Prayer services.

Return Engagement

Popular Sam Campbell, a dean among travel lecturers, will make an appearance in Arlington Heights Monday when he will lecture on "California and Hawaii" at the high school.

Lions club, sponsors of the event, are selling tickets at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children.

Sam Campbell is a hit wherever he appears, and this time should certainly be no exception with the Lions club to back him and a popular subject on the schedule.

Advance Notice

Members of the Community Concert association will have the opportunity to renew their memberships for next season during the week of March 8 to 13. New memberships may also be purchased at this time.

The entire season of concerts costs but $6 for adults. This year there will have been five varied programs, ranging from Mildred Dilling, the harpist who was so outstanding to a string ensemble, the Bell Singers, a pianist, and finally, this Sunday evening Eugene Conley of the Metropolitan Opera.

Headquarters for the membership drive will be set up in the Public Service cornpany store at Vail and Campbell.

TV NEWS

By Don Hager

One of the hottest rumors around Hollywood and New York TV centers is about the talks between Tennessee Ernie and CBS. The network is looking for a right hand man and substitute for Arthur Godfrey, and they're talking contract with Tennessee, who has won a lot of fans with his recordings. A number of Godfrey "subs" in the past have gone on to win a following of their own . . . including Robert Q. Lewis and Steve Allen. Tennessee Ernie could be the next in line.

Marlene Dietrich has no fears about television. In fact, she's going to produce and direct as well as star in her "Cafe Istanbul" series when it goes on video . . . Just starring on TV has Ray Milland in need of a vacation. He completes filming his "Meet Mr. McNultey" series in April and heads for a European holiday.

Singer Tony Bennett proved the power of TV to the recording business the other week. After he warbled his latest hit, "There'll be no Teardrops Tonight," on the Jackie Gleason Show, the record sold 21,000 copies in the New York area alone during the next 24 hours. National sales spurted to 75,000 overnight.

The best way to judge a TV set's "power to please" is a proven record of performance . . . and the best way to choose your television set is to select one which has proven its quality of performance since it first appeared before the public. The name Dumont in TV therefore means performance to please. On display at: Don Hager's TV & Appliance, 11 W. Davis St., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Be sure to get in on the Du Mont Candid TV Picture Photo Contest. Over 100 individual merit awards, 2 round trip all-expense tickets via TWA to the winner, awarded in June.

NW Scout Council Budget Now 57 Gs, Ask Larger Camp

by ARNOLD HATCH

Twenty-five members of NWS council executive board held their first meeting of the fiscal year Monday evening at Arlington Heights fieldhouse, to consider ways and means of keeping up to the rapidly growing organization, Boy Scouts of America.

Fred Welsh, finance chairman, gave his report on present finances, concluding by saying the 1954 budget will require $57,000 to properly meet the demands of the increased Cubbing and Scouting programs. Finance drives, he added, are either completed or plans for drives in the near future are all made.

William Kratt presented charts showing how Cubbing and Scouting has increased tremendously from the 1950 level. Because the program is growing phenomenally fast, a lot of long range planning must be done by the council to keep pace with the present rate of expansion.

H. EMERY, camping chairman, advised that facilities at Camp Napawan must be enlarged at once in order to meet the increased reservations for outdoor camping. Another unit, incorporating more housing units and better kitchen facilities, will be necessary. The present capacity of Camp Napawan will accommodate around 800 campers. This must be increased to meet the requirements of at least 1,000 campers for this year. New construction work for this last unit which must be completed before camp starts this year was approved by the board unanimously.

Reports from the five district chairmen indicate that progress is satisfactory for the most part.

Les McAuliffe, council commissioner, reported good progress in his commissioners' program.

ERIC CHURCH, training chairman, said many new classes of leadership training have been scheduled for the near future.

Stan Huntington, scout executive, advised the annual regional meeting will be held Saturday, April 2, at the Edgewater Beach hotel at 10 a.m.

Vesper Prayer Service

The second in the series of Lenten Vesper Prayer services will be held at the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights March 10 at 8 p.m.

This is a half-hour service of prayer and meditation to which everyone is invited.

Yellowstone Park, Grand Tetons Next Travel Topic

Yellowstone Park and the Grand Tetons will be the scenes shown in the Travel and Adventure lecture at Arlington Heights high school March 9,at 8 p.m.

Stan Midgely is often referred to as the Mark Twain of the camera, for his beautiful films of bicycle trips through the scenic wonders of America are accompanied by his sparkling and witty commentaries. Though many of Mr. Midgely's audiences have visited the sites of this film, few people take the time, or have the leisure for seeing all the wonders he has photographed with patience and a real artist's eye.

THE EARLY scenes are in the Teton Pass, gateway to the Tetons East of Victor, Idaho. The hill is a most difficult one for bicycle travel, but beautiful all the way. Going down the hairpin turns into Jackson Hole the bike's brakes become too hot to touch. Across Teton Pass, Jackson, Wyoming, is seen as an old cow town now completely dominated by dudes. Northward from Jackson there follow scenes of the Chapel of Transfiguration with its famous stained glass window, a clear piece of plate glass framing the Grand Teton; Jenny Lake reflecting the clouds playing around the majestic Teton Peaks; and then a backpacking trip into the very heart of the Tetons.

There at Lake Solitude an evening of alpenglow reddens the great west face of the Grand Teton, only to be followed by one of the big laughs of the trip. This is the sequence depicting the familiar hardships of getting up on a cold, high-altitude morning. The Tetons are shown in storm and sunshine, and then the route is followed northward around Jackson Lake into Yellowstone.

THE CYCLIST and his camera follow through Yellowstone by the Grand Loop Road in a counter-clockwise direction. West Thumb Geyser Basin, Yellowstone Lake, Fishing Bridge, the Canyon and its waterfalls, Mt. Washburn, and the Terraces at Mammoth follow in order. After climbing up through the Golden Gate above Mammoth a pair of rare Trumpeter Swans are seen in Swan Lake. Of course, bears, moose, elk, antelope, mountain sheep and other animals for which Yellowstone is famous appear all throughout the trip. Norris Geyser Basin is the first large geyser basin encountered. Next comes the Lower Geyser Basin with its paint pots and the Great Fountain Geyser in action. In the Upper Geyser Basin most of the major geysers are seen in action

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

Your kitchen will have a lovely cinnamon odor and children will wear a path to your cookie jar when you bake the Ginger Snaps we are featuring today.

The recipe for this tasty cookie has been shared with us by Mrs. Donald Thompson, 316 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights. Ginger Snaps are a favorite with the Thompsons' two children, Bill, 10, and Pamela, 5½. And they enjoy assisting their mother in making these cookies, too.

Flavored with molasses, cinnamon, cloves and ginger, the cookies are rolled in granulated sugar and then baked.

Crispy and spicy, they will appeal to young and old alike.

Ginger Snaps

¾ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
¼ cup dark molasses
2 tsp. soda
1 egg
2 cups flour
¼ tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. cloves
1 tsp. ginger

Cream shortening and sugar together. Add molasses and egg and beat well.

Sift dry ingredients together and sift right into above mixture.

Drop dough by teaspoonsful into granulated sugar. Roll into balls the size of a walnut and place on greased cookie sheet.

Bake in 375 degree oven for 15 minutes or until done. Makes about five dozen medium-sized cookies.

News of Elk Grove

Demonstration For Mothers

The time for the March 11 Mothers' club meeting has been advanced to 1:00 next Thursday. Business meeting will be held first, followed by a "Better Hostess" demonstration.

Club will sponsor a community party in April. Details will be announced later.

Eighth Grade Jewelry

The eighth graders are proudly sporting their Elk Grove rings or pins that recently arrived. They look very nice and serve to remind all that they are approaching the end of their grade school days.

Piano Request

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of a piano still in playable shape that could be donated to the school please contact the office. Since it is difficult to move some we have received in the past it would be nice to get another one or two, especially for a primary grade.

Exchange of Nurses

The school regrets losing the efficient service of Mrs. Faye Kraus of the Cook County Health department. Her splendid cooperation and assistance in the past were much appreciated. However, her replacement, Miss Tesch, is already hard at work and should carry on in the fine tradition of Mrs. Krauss.

Nutrition Study

A three day survey of pupils' diets will be conducted shortly among all middle and upper grade pupils. This is to be honestly and accurately filled out on an unsigned form at school. An explanation will be sent out to the parents beforehand to acquaint them with the project. The results will be sent to Mrs. Nash, a County Health department nutrition specialist, for recording and recommendations for follow-up educational program concerning healthful eating habits.

Red Cross Activity

Mrs. Allison and Mr. Malcolmson attended a meeting of school Junior Red Cross personnel and volunteers in Evanston Monday. Many interesting items were discussed and an attractive display of school projects was arranged. Mrs. Allison, teacher representative, has been working on projects that bring happiness to others for many years and has more new ideas this year. Mrs. Allison's students received a special note of thanks for their ornament-making project at Christmas. It is to be pointed out that the annual fund raising drive for the junior Red Cross, although also held this month, is always kept entirely for worthwhile projects for children at home or abroad.

All-Star Game

At the recent coaches' meeting of the Little Seven Fred Klamer was selected to play in the annual game of the all-star players against the coaches. This game will be played at 4:00 at Central school, Mt. Prospect, March 12. Other members of the basketball squad have been invited to go along as spectators. The coaches also set May 22 as the day for the annual Little Seven track meet at the Arlington Heights high school.

Wilson Community

SCHOOL BOARD

Applications are available at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Margaret Wallor.

The County Board of Health has assigned a nurse, Mrs. Tisch, to the school and her next visit will be March 5.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That permanent peace and harmony are within the reach of mankind through the spiritual growth that reveals the true, spiritual nature of man in God's likeness will be emphasized in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man" which will be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

Selections from the King James Version of the Bible include this citation from Romans: "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose" (8:28).

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite—in order that sin and mortality may be put off.

"This scientific sense of being, forsaking matter for Spirit, by no means suggests man's absorption into Deity and the loss of his identity, but confers upon man enlarged individuality, a wider sphere of thought and action, a more expansive love, a higher and more permanent peace" (265:5-15).

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace" (37:37).

Why A Room For The Blind Children Is Community Problem

by PATRICIA W. CORTS

Until recently, the suburban schools have been able to take care of their blind children by sending them to Chicago schools of special education, gladly paying their tuition. However, the Chicago schools are no longer accepting suburban blind children because they do not have enough teachers or facilities ot take care of their own increased handicapped. There is a waiting list of blind children ready to go to school in Chicago. This is due to the alarming increase of blind children in recent years.

In 1942, medical science discovered retrolental phroplana, a form of blindness peculiar to premature infants. More premature babies are being saved every year and a large number of these infants have this new blindness. Science has not been able to uncover the cause, and until such discovery is made no cure can be effected, if any.

IN THE NORTHWEST suburbs there are seventeen known cases of blindness. However, no one town has more than four children, and when parents have inquired about schooling locally they were advised there are not enough blind children to warrant a classroom, especially with the present school shortage.

The parents of the blind children have grouped together in their request for one schoolroom in the area.

Six children are ready for schooling in September. The Superintendents of Schools of the North West suburbs have met with the parents of the blind in an effort to see what might be done about this situation, but to date there is not even one single classroom available in any of the surrounding suburbs. Parents of the blind have been assured by the various superintendents that tuition will be provided for their children if a school room can be secured in this area.

With the present situation of too many children and too few schools, these superintendents are met with the problem of putting twenty-eight children in a room or six. The State requires that blind children must have a room within a school building. They can not be segregated in a room off school premises. Because the blind student requires more individual attention, a teacher can only handle six children ideally, a maximum of ten students.

A BRAILLE CLASSROOM is a regular classroom set aside for the blind students, equipped with regular desks or flat top desks, placed wide apart so the children may move about freely. Special equipment is needed: braille stylus, pencils, typewriters, etc. Parents of the blind were informed the equipment was of little consequence, however, that obtaining a room was the most important factor.

Under the present Illinois program, the blind student spends most of his time in the braille classroom during his early school years gradually having more classes with sighted children. By the time he reaches the upper grades, most of his time is spent in regular braille room for spelling, reading and coordination of studies. One braille teacher can handle blind children of all grades.

Parents of the blind are aware they are embarking on a new project. That is, for the suburban schools to start a braille class. They are opposed to taking the only alternative open: sending sending their children to the State Institution for the Blind at Jacksonville, Illinois.

In communities throughout the country blind children are being trained in the regular schools, having their own braille room. these blind children are making a secure place for themselves with other children in normal group situations and through them to an ever-widening circle in the community. Modern educators have stressed the important role the blind person can play in society if he is schooled with sighted children. Antiquated concepts of the limitations of a blind person have been shattered. The advantages to sighted children in learning to to know and accept handicapped children during school years, when the preconceived ideas of blindness will not color their reaction, can not be stressed too strongly. No specialized setting can provide this experience for the blind student or the sighted student.

PARENTS of the blind are aware it is up to them to acquaint the community with the strides which can be made if this program is put into effect. They want to give their children a wholesome community in which to live, a decent education, and a goal for the future so they can take their places as productive, useful citizens. Also, if this new program of integration is put into effect the greatest handicap their children must face: public acceptance and understanding, will be surmounted.

If the community will stand behind the parents of the blind and give them wholehearted support, they believe a room will be provided them by September for the six children who will be ready for school, and the teacher they have contacted will not be lost to them. Next week: How You Can Help Secure A Room For the Blind Children.

New Plymouth Power

Plymouth Motor Corporation has announced a new power package, consisting of a Power-Flite fully automatic transmission used with a new, more powerful Power-Flow engine.

President John P. Mansfield of Plymouth said the 110-horsepower PowerFlow engine with a 7.25 to 1 compression ratio will be standard on all PowerFlite transmisssion models at no extra cost. They provide fast acceleration and superior all-around performance, Mansfield said.

Plymouth's other no-shift drive, the popular Hy-Drive, is being retained as another option because of its low cost and because it has proved to be outstandingly successful in owner use.

Water Committee Eyes Des Plaines River Water Plan

Anthony A. Olis, president of the sanitary district board, who was appointed by Governor Stratton to head the 19-man committee studying the problems of water supply in the Chicago area, has requested copies of the McCabe-Hooper plan for the development of the Des Plaines river valley for study by the committee. The McCabe-Hooper plan, a development of the Revere Engineering company of River Grove would pipe Lake Michigan water to the headwaters of the Des Plaines river at a point south of Zion to augment the river's normal flow, and would take off water at five or more filtration plants along the course of the Des Plaines to supply the water-short suburbs.

Under the McCabe - Hooper plan filtration plants would connect with existing water systems in the suburbs and eliminate the necessity of costly reservoirs. The filtered water, which would be in a state of purity surpassing that of the treated lake water now being supplied the suburbs, would be delivered in unlimited quantity and at usuable pressure.

The Revere Engineering company has already received assurances of private financial backing for the project and is seeking letters of intent from interested suburbs.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

When Hyde Park-Kenwood-Woodlawn decided that it was necessary to roll up their sleeves and rehabilitate their own community, there were several highly favorable factors in the situation. If there was any community in the country where the citizenry could bring about a new community, it was Hyde Park; if it could not be worked there, it could probably not have been worked.

Hyde Park is still a community where wealth lives. There is one of the country's greatest academic universities with a wealth of professional persons who live in the community and are interested in it. In addition the University has money and is vitally interested in the type of neighborhood around it.

THE CHURCHES and synagogues, the business establishments, the University, all formed the Southeast Chicago Commission, and Dr. Julian Levy, of the faculty of the University Law school was chosen as executive secretary. A one-time federal law enforcement officer was hired.

Maps and pins were bought for the police stations and mapping techniques were taught; they also bought lockers for the members of the force. Policemen were told, "We know that it is necessary for your wives to work, and we can't do anything about that. But send them around to us and we'll help them get better jobs." They also persuaded banks to grant unsecured loans to members of the police department. This tended to reduce the necessity for depending on undercover income. Law enforcement became a primary task of the police and the crime rate began to drop.

The law enforcement department also spotted situations. In one hotel, for example, there were ninety arrests in eight months. A study of the first sixty-three of these showed up five hundred convictions. The data was sent to the bank which held the mortgage on the hotel and the insurance company. The insurance was cancelled as a very poor risk; the mortgage was defaulted; and the hotel changed hands.

OTHER HOTELS were concerned, and were told that the cleanup was going to be effected—with or without their cooperation. Today, there is a complete listing of all known criminals and narcotics addicts. A person cannot get a room without being reported, and any who are known to be addicts are immediately ousted. An unfortunate result is that many of them are moving to the west side where conditions are not so trying to footpads and narcotics addicts.

There is also a special fire inspector who makes a prior investigatior. with a camera. Then the violations are reported to the city building inspector. If the inspection gives the establishment a clean bill, the photos are sent to the Inspector's office. This has greatly decreased the outside income of building inspectors. Vicious speculators are not eager to invest in southeast Chicago these days. They are also moving to the west side.

Dr. Levy says, "We have no legal status. But we are exercising moral suasion in practical action. This is not a program to save the value of somebody's investment or property. This is a program to save a community's democratic way of living." Indirectly, this protects the value of one's property. It transforms his investment from an investment in dirt and bricks and wood into an investment in the moral quality of a community.

Ground Observers Save Plane And 14 Men When Storm Stops Radar

The ground observer corps, composed of volunteer civilians together with Chicago's system of radar the other night, showed its value when the ground observers Monday enabled a pilot lost in the sky during a severe electric storm to save himself and his plane. There were 14 men aboard the B-4Y piloted by Lieutenant (jg) Fritz Rubins of the navy air corps on a training flight from Florida to Glenview.

It was a perfect test of the use of radar during disturbed atmospheric conditions.

The lost pilot with gas giving out didn't know where he was. His radio queries to airfields brought back word that radar could not locate him. Without this knowledge of his location no one could guide him to a landing.

The pilot began to circle, hoping that the storm would abate—hoping he would be directed to safety. His circling was over Elgin, where the ground observer corps, under direction of Mrs. Doris Corsini, on duty reported his activity through the Chicago filter center to radar. The eastern air defense force radar site, now aware of his location, guided him into Glenview naval air station.

New Wall Tile To Be Available Here

Elgintile, a new wall tile made of plastic, is now available to residents of this area.

According to Roland A. Vaillette, manager of Elgintile, it is not only superior to the so-called standard types of plastic tile now available, it is specifically designed and engineered for the area in which it is to be used. Among the unusual factors taken into consideration in designing and engineering this unusual plastic tile is the humidity of the location in which it is to be used.

Elgintile will be sold only through established dealers in this area, available as part of installations and as the best possible material for the handy do-it-himself builder or home improver.

So far Elgintile has been introduced in the Fox River valley with considerable success and has proved very popular with residents of that area.

Mr. Vaillette feels it will be equally popular with residents of this area.

Forty-Four High School Students Banquet With Business Trainers

The educational program provided by Arlington Heights high school extends beyond the walls of that institution by successful operation of its distributive education and diversified occupation programs. The service to the 44 students who are profiting by the operation of the two plans, and to the businessmen and industry plants was demonstrated last Wednesday night when the trainees and the trainers gathered around the banquet table at the high school cafeteria.

It was an example of successful cooperative education provided by the high school for the young people who plan to take their places in the business world after high school graduation.

SEVENTEEN students are listed in the distributive education program. After spending three hours in high school studies, they spend the rest of the school day in the employment of firms where they broaden their knowledge of business methods and practices.

Twenty-seven others are acquiring occupational training, in various trades in plants that extend from Arlington Heights to Des Plaines as well as Wheeling.

These 44 students are not on their own when they leave the high school building. They and the work they are doing are under direction of teachers especially trained for such work and who tie together school instruction with the knowledge the participants acquire in the stores, offices and industrial plants.

STATE SCHOOL system sponsors the programs on a cooperative basis with the individual schools. It certifies to the qualifications of the teachers who are in charge of the work. Special text books for particular trades in which the student is employed are provided. Periodical grades are made after conferences between the school representative and the persons in the business houses who has taken the responsibility of directing the training.

Local businessmen have welcomed the opportunity to participate in the two programs. In many cases, the young people are looking forward to continuing in the employment of the firm in which they are receiving apprentice training.

Art Smith was master of ceremonies for the evening; Richard Dreyer gave the invocation! and Larry Slinkard presented the welcoming address. Music was furnished by Douglas Winkelman and his combo.

The program was student planned throughout.

Foster Moore, Mike Bonner, Nancy Stocking and Betty Winkelman handled the preparation and distribution of invitations.

Table decorations were prepared by Betty Winkelman, Barbara Opels, Bill Klowsky, Don Cameron, Richie Kyska, Dennis Gora and Jack Mayer.

The program was planned by John Schmockel, Robert Peterson, Ronald Wrienrich and Richard Drewer.

Words Often Misused

In best usage, "between" applies to only two, and "among" to more than two. "He was caught between two fires." "He is a man among men."

To allege a thing admits the possibility of error. A man is alleged to be a criminal, when it may later be proved that he is not. If no doubt exists, one asserts, declares, says or states.

Do not say, "He needn't go." "Needn't is a contraction of "need not," which requires a plural subject Say, "He needs not go."

Thieves Loot Curtis Gas Station In Heights

The Bill Curtis service station, 1020 W. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, was broken into Sunday night and the thieves made off with a considerable amount of loot, including tires, tubes, spark plugs and many other auto supplies.

Entrance was gained by breaking a rear window on the north side of the station. The Arlington police have taken photos at the scene of the crime and are presently working on several good clues in an effort to solve the burglary.

Police investigated numerous accidents in the village this week most of which involved property damage only.

Mrs. Astrid Thune, 910 N. Mitchell, was hit by a car Saturday while crossing the street at Dunton and Davis. She suffered right arm, hip and a small laceration on the right rear shoulder.

Driver of the auto was William F. Schroeder, 126 S. Highland, who told police he did not see the pedestrian crossing the street.

Traffic court in Arlington Heights Monday night netted $59.

Three More Subdivision Plats Await Approval Of Health Department

Three plats for northside suburban subdivisions were presented to the Public Service Committee of the Cook County Board of Commissioners Monday.

All three plats were sent to the County Department of Health with all other plats presented to the committee Monday. The purpose of such referral is to determine if the proper percolation tests have been made so that the lots are suitable for development with septic tanks and wells.

Plans to make referral to the Health Department a part of the regular routine are being considered now by a special committee of the Board.

The three plats referred Monday were:

Robert N. Beers' Subdivision, Schoenbeck rd., near Palatine in Wheeling Township.

Bruce's Subdivision, on Kenilworth ave., near Waukegan rd. in Northfield Township.

McManaway's Subdivision on Schoenbeck rd., near Dundee rd. in Wheeling Township.

In all three cases, the County Map department has already approved the plats.

The debate squad will also participate in the sectional tourney.

Schoppe's Store To Celebrate 60 Years On Same Palatine Corner

Sixty years is a long time for one business to be operated by the same family at the same location, but when April 1 comes around, the Schoppe store at Slade and Brockway sts. in Palatine will celebrate its sixtieth anniversary at the same location.

There is no April fool joke about it either. On April 1, business will be suspended for the day at the Schoppe store, and the day and evening will be given over to meeting and visiting with their friends and customers old and new who have made the Schoppe store their trading center since the days of "way back when."

Gone are a lot of the features of sixty years ago when the big blast stove at the rear of the store was the center of attraction on cold winter mornings when the farmers, in with their milk, would gather around to warm up and talk over the affairs of the day.

Gone, too, is the grocery department with its cracker barrel and prune bin.

THE CIGAR CASE is still at the back of the store, but the old "poor box" where the morning visitors used to load up their pipes, has succumbed to the march of progress and the high cost of living.

But the Schoppe store is still there at the old stand and under the same management. Harry Schoppe, one of the original owners of the Schoppe Bros. store, is still on the job every day, and Amanda Schoppe, the widow of Louis Schoppe, the other owner of the original business, is still a partner in the institution.

Helen Schoppe, daughter of Harry and Mollie, is another of the family actively engaged in the operation of the store, and is in charge of the woman's department.

April 1 is really the 62nd anniversary of Schoppe Bros., two years having been spent in another location, but the April first celebration features sixty years at the present location where the Schoppe's have seen the transformation of Palatine from a country town and farming center to suburban community.

THE OLD DIRT streets with their hitching posts and rails have given way to the modern paved streets and parking meters; the old milk wagons (and sleighs in winter), have given way to trucks and autos; the little country town of a few hundred inhabitants has given way to a bustling community of many thousands, but the Schoppe store still stands on the same corner and a few of the fast dwindling "old guard" still gathers of a morning in the back of the store where the old stove used to be to talk things over.

A lot of changes have come and gone in those sixty years, and at the April first celebration, there will be a lot of tales of what's happened during all those years on the same corner.

The Schoppe store is inviting all its friends to drop in that day for a visit and some refreshments. Business will be suspended for the day; it's going to be a day just to meet and talk things over. There's a lot to talk about when you've done business at the same location for sixty years, years that have seen a host of changes in all walks of life.

Here Are School Plans Of 'Outs'

we have a right to be consulted, in advance, before we are required to vote on costly propositions for school expansion. We abhor "executive" meetings—there is no place for such meetings in matters in which we are all concerned.

"We are determined that every high school student in our two townships shall receive the fullest possible measure of education from our school system, but we will not countenance unnecessary costly "frills" which may detract from the real values of sound education. Our committee is so organized that it does represent every section of High School District No. 214, and we invite all citizens in Elk Grove and Wheeling townships to join us in these worthy purposes.

"We have benefitted by the support of more than 5,000 of our fellow-citizens in the campaign just closed. We are grateful for their interest and participation. It is our intention to so conduct our future operations that we will continue to merit their generous and intelligent cooperation."

At a meeting of the executive sub-committee of the larger Committee, held last Sunday afternoon, it was decided to appoint a number of vice chairmen to whom will be charged the direction of various activities of the committee's program. Departments to be established include Organization of Field Work, Finances, Publicity, Office Detail, Transportation, and Fact-Finding. As needed, other departments of the larger Committee will be created. In closing his statement, Millay said:

"It is not our purpose to harbor personal resentment against proponents of the defeated bond issue. Our view is toward the future. We welcome honest aid and advice which we can accept within the scope of our beliefs."

Congressman Church Was Last 'Man' Down

Marguerite Stitt Church was "the last man down" Monday when three Puerto Rican men opened fire in the House of Representatives. In answer to a phone call from Paddock Publications Mrs. Church said, "I have never before been under fire and I did not know what to do until Representative Sheehan called to me to duck. I ducked. I was literally on the floor."

Mrs. Church added, "It was a very tense three minutes. It seemed incredible to us. No person was safe. We were all possible targets, because the shots were not being aimed at any one person. The shooting started when all Republican members were standing."

Heights, Palatine Mayors Proclaim Girl Scout Week

Mayor Albert W. Goedke of Arlington Heights and Mayor Charles F. Wittenburg of Palatine hereby proclaim March 7-13 as Girl Scout Week. The Girl Scouts of these villages will join with more than two million members of the organization throughout the country in celebrating Girl Scout Week and the 42nd anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States on March 12.

This will be the first time that Girl Scout Week will be observed in March. Previously it occurred in October, but, by vote of the Girl Scout national convention last fall, the dates were changed to coincide with the annual celebration of the Girl Scout anniversary March 12.

Theme of the week will be, "Know Your Neighbors—Know Your Nation." The seven-day observance will open on Girl Scout Sunday when troop members and leaders will attend their churches in uniform.

During each day of the subsequent week Girl Scout troops will feature an activity typical of the Girl Scout program—homemaking, arts and crafts, citizenship, health and safety, the out-of-doors, and international friendship. (AP

Parents Invited To See Movie On 'Human Growth' At Junior High School

Following the plan adopted some time ago, the Arlington Heights Junior high school will again offer the film entitled "Human Growth" to the boys and girls in the sixth and eighth grades. This type of instruction in social hygiene is given to the boys and girls separately in their regularly scheduled health classes.

In order that the parents of all sixth and eighth grade pupils in the Junior high school have an opportunity to view this film and to hear, first hand, the type of discussion that precedes and follows the showing of the film, arrangements have been made for Dr. Franklin Fitch of the Illinois Social Hygiene League to present it at a meeting on Wednesday evening, March 10, at 8:15 p. m. in the Junior high school gymnasium. All parents are welcome to attend.

The discussion will afford an opportunity for parents to ask questions about the entire area of sex education, and will help prepare them for the questions that may be asked at home as a result of the pupils viewing the film and discussing it with their health teachers.

Open Cancer Info' Center At Mount Prospect

Education and service, two of the important characteristics behind the program of the American Cancer society's program, took another step forward in the fight against cancer February 15.

Assistance with the many problems facing persons affected either personally or indirectly by cancer is now available to more than 90,000 residents living within the limits of the Northwest suburban chapter of the American Cancer society, Illinois division.

THROUGH ITS NEW information center, now operating at 22 West Busse street, Mount Prospect the center will offer its services to 13 suburban communities. The area includes Arlington Heights, Barrington, Des Plaines, Mount Prospect, Niles, Norwidge, Orchard Place, Palatine, Prospect Heights, Prospect Meadows, Park Ridge, Schiller Park, and Wheeling.

Announcement of the opening of the center was made by C. W. Desgrey, volunteer chairman of the Northwest suburban chapter. Desgrey, an Arlington Heights resident, is general manager of operations for United States Gypsum. His home is at 436 S. Lincoln Lane.

Others on the executive committee are Dr. Robert Muench, 102 S. Dunton st., and Dr. H. Paul Carstens, 435 S. Lincoln Lane, both of Arlington Heights, acting co-chairmen; William J. Busse, 2 W. Busse st., Mount Prospect, treasurer; Mrs. James B. Henderson, 140 Wilshire st., Arlington Heights, secretary; and W. F. Zeidler, Inverness country side, Palatine.

OPERATION of various services available at the center is under the direction of Mrs. J. W. Haverly, 306 N. Main st., Mount Prospect, executive secretary of the Northwest suburban chapter.

Through its loan closet, the Mount Prospect information center will supply the needs of the cancer patient no longer under hospital care. At present the closet contains three beds, a wheel chair, and a large supply of cancer dressings. Materials from the closet are available to the patient upon request. Cancer dressings, made by volunteer workers under the direction of a dressings chairman, are stored at the center until needed by persons serviced by the chapter.

ANOTHER TASK of the information center is that of setting up programs to further cancer education in the community. This may be done with the cooperation of its schools and various other civic organizations.

These are the main features now offered by the Mount Prospect center. Now located in only temporary headquarters, the group hopes to have a permanent home some time this fall. As the center enlists more volunteers and grows in scope, it hopes to establish a transportation corps and other facilities.

Operating centers such as the Mount Prospect information center is not an easy task. It requires time, energy, understanding and workers.

Feehanville School

We wish to extend birthday greetings to several of our youngsters who passed another milestone in February. Frank Castre celebrated his eighth birthday February 11 and Charles Deering his tenth on the same day. Richard Kleinke totaled nine years on the ninth. Mary Kay Kozel became seven on the seventeenth. Stephen Lilja is all of five years old since the eighteenth. Two of our youngsters have entered the much publicized teens, Billy Phar, who became thirteen on February 22, and Janet Sandquist, who celebrated her thirteenth birthday March 3. Judy Olson is now eight years old, as of March 4.

While we are on the subject of birthdays, we wish to thank the Joseph Dursos for presenting us with another future Feehanville scholar, a baby boy, born last week. Mother and son doing fine.

At Prospect Heights

The Home Economics department of the eighth grade at Prospect Heights prepared and served a dinner to the Lions' club last Wednesday. Marlene Olson and Gail Wiltshire were on the cherry pie detail, and made and served six of them. All the girls (and their teacher) worked hard, and the dinner was a huge success.

There is a contest in progress at Prospect Heights school to see who among the upper grades will have the finest natural science exhibit. The two best exhibits will be sent to the Museum of Science and Industry, to compete with exhibits from other schools. Marlene Olson is submitting an exhibit depicting a scene in prehistoric times. Life-like clay models of dinosaurs and other monsters of that era, are shown, scrambling over rocks or stalking realistically through a miniature forest.

We are happy to welcome George Grosse back to school. He has many wonderful things to tell us about his three-week vacation in Florida, with his family, the Altons. They extended their trip to include more of the Southland, as they drove west to Texas before coming back north. It was a memorable trip, fun to plan for, exciting to do and pleasant to remember.

Franklyn Sullivan has been home ill for several days, and just when he was well again, his brother, Jerry, became ill.

Mr. Kuzich, the gym teacher at Prospect Heights, has been giving the upper grade boys gym tests. The highest number of points possible was 335. Milton Cully scored second with 270, and Chris Stavros third with 212½, in the eighth grade. In the sixth grade Frank Sullivan scored second with 245.

At Forest River Church

Last Thursday the Boys' Brigade played their last official game of the season with Palatine and won. They have one more game on their calendar, a scrimmage game with Palatine, just for practice. This will be on their regular meeting night, some Monday in the near future.

The Stockade had their monthly birthday party last Wednesday. They usually have a party once a month to celebrate the birthdays of all those who had birthdays during the month. Mrs Stanley Warren baked delicious cupcakes for their treat. Party games rounded out the evening.

John Hanson and Robert Marten met at the home of Bernard Shimmin last Sunday to work out the program for the Stockaders for the coming month. Their Easter project was decided on, games have been planned, and it sounds like a happy and busy month coming up for the Stockade.

The Brownies have been getting good training in the Scout motto, "Service." They have been working on several "Kits for Korea" too, and have them completed and ready to turn in to the Neighborhood meeting in March. Our two troops, Brownies 231 and Intermediates 233, will make a good showing when all their kits are assembled. The girls are thrilled to think that the articles they are collecting and packing, will actually find their way across the sea, into the hands of other, youngsters who are not as fortunate as themselves.

The Frank Sullivans entertained Mr. and Mrs. Dave Walker of Cincinnati, Friday evening. The Walkers are looking over the vicinity for a place to settle, as his home office is being transferred to this area from Cincinnati.

Barrington - Palatine In Regional Game Thursday Night

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1954

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

NORTHWEST CONFERENCE SEASON is over with just about the closest finish in the past 10 seasons. It was really justice being served to have Antioch win the games with Grant last Friday and throw both divisions into ties for the championship. Antioch and Grant clearly proved their right to finish on top in the varsity division.

Antioch had the best offensive and defensive average in the circuit, the latter being their strong point in a season of weak defensive play. Grant, on the other hand, played the most consistent ball and had the best team leader in the league in Bill Grenell.

Mike Haviland and Ben Floyd sparked Antioch as juniors. Antioch, Grant and Wauconda were the choice of the majority of coaches for the first three positions in the final standings, but Palatine edged out Wauconda behind the two leaders.

THERE WAS LITTLE TO CHOOSE among Antioch, Grant, and Ela-Vernon in the frosh-soph division. All three were out of the class of the rest of the league and the two defeats suffered by the leaders were all to each other as they split even in their home and home series. Grant's outfit had the best freshmen with first year boys making up half the playing strength.

Ela-Vernon had potentially the most power, but lack of a gym for the first half of the season handicapped the team just as it did the varsity.

Glenbrook, finishing behind the triple champs in fourth place, won only six of 14 games indicating the rest of the league is in a bad way for future varsity material.

JAY HOOK LED THE LEAGUE in scoring just once in a 14 game schedule and that was after Friday's final game when his all-out scoring effort, aided by his team mates, produced 31 points to top Bill Grenell with 257 points to 242 for the Grant star. Glen Chaffin, Ela center, took third with 206 followed closely by 200 scored by Mike Haviland, Antioch spark plug.

Gene Jaskot of Wauconda and Bob Boyd of Glenbrook who finished fifth and sixth with 193 and 182 are sophomores. Ron Christen of Grayslake and Ken Sirotzki of Bensenville, a pair of midget guards, tied for seventh with 181 points. Elsewhere in this section the records are published of all boys scoring 30 points for the season.

AS THIS ISSUE comes on the news stands, the first round of the regional tournament will have been played. At Palatine Barrington will be meeting either the host school or Ela-Vernon in the first semi-final game at 7:00 tonight (Thursday) while Arlington Heights will be facing Wauconda at 8:30 in the second contest. This is the dope if it runs true to form.

The Palatine-Ela game was rated the toss up of the first round, with Ela rated the edge in mid season, but Palatine showing better during the past month.

THE REALIGNMENT COMMITTEE of the association of suburban conferences of which your columnist is a member, will meet some time this month to start a study leading to recommendations on shifts and additions of teams in the suburban conference lineup. Future enrollment, location, community emphasis on athletics, and other factors will influence the thinking of the committee.

North Chicago, Round Lake, Elmwood Park, and a second school in the Morton-Berwyn area will complicate the situation in the Northwest area along with Wheaton being dropped from the Little Seven.

ARLINGTON'S FROSH-SOPHS have compiled a good record in West Suburban league basketball since the school entered the loop. They ranked third in 1951-52 with an 8-6 mark, tied for first last year with a 10-4 figure, and finished second this year with a 9-5 slate.

The varsity hasn't improved either won-lost record or position yet, but with almost all of LaGrange varsity power graduating, maybe Heights, and all the other schools, will rate a better chance in basketball next season.

Otherwise, sports action is switching to spring activities at Arlington, except for the varsity cagers still in tournament play, plus the sectional next week, certain to bring three good crowds . . . Lester, Ormsbee and Klotz will coach the baseball teams, but do not expect to have indoor workouts yet, with the weather determining time for first outdoor action . . .

Pitchers and catchers will gain attention first . . . Gymnastics coach Gay Hughes will serve as head judge of trampoline at the NCAA meet at Illinois the early part of April . . . Annual physical education show is slated for May 7 . . . First call for golfers was made Tuesday . . . Track boys spend five days a week running through the halls with frosh-sophs under direction of Ligon, the varsity under Attis, the weightmen under Beckman.

Among those receiving combination athletic-scholarship awards at Illinois Monday were Bud DeMoss of York and Roger Wing of Maine . . . Riverside's George Oetting won five matches for the Lawrence college grapplers this season . . . Plenty of boxing fans of this area will witness another night of boxing at the Chicago Stadium Thursday, March 11, when the finals of the Golden Gloves are held . . . Note to coaches: LaGrange JVs posted a 7-7 record this year, the frosh 11-3 . . .

THE RESIGNATION of D. W. Thompson as principal of Warren high at Gurnee, along with the resignation a year ago of H. E. Underbrink at Libertyville really closes out an era in the Northwest Suburbs. These men are the last of the administrators of the old Northwest conference which prospered in the nineteen twenties and thirties before the addition of extra schools raised membership to 14 and brought about a breakup in the organization.

Thompson was at the helm 31 years at Warren and Underbrink directed Libertyville something over 30 school years. They are the last of the administrators who formed the Northwest Conference in 1925.

In the twenties and early thirties Libertyville dominated the Northwest conference much as Barrington monopolized the sports titles in that league a few years ago and at present in the North Suburban. Jack Martin, handling football and basketball, and Larry Crawford coaching track made Libertyville

Sectional At Arlington Next Week

Next week is sectional time in 15 basketball centers throughout Illinois with the spacious, 4,000 seat gym at Arlington Heights included. Winners of regional tournaments at Palatine, Crystal Lake, Maine and Waukegan will be pitted against each other for sectional honors and the right to compete in the Sweet Sixteen tournament the following week.

Admission prices have been announced by athletic director Wally Grace, with tickets on sale at the high school office. Adult tickets are selling for $1, students 75 cents with one game each night at 8:15.

High school office, open 8-4:30 daily, will have ducats for Wednesday night's session on sale Monday morning. Ducats for Thursday night will be available Thursday morning, and Friday night's tickets on sale Friday morning.

PLAYING SCHEDULE will pit Crystal Lake regional winner vs. Palatine regional champ Wednesday night. Maine regional winner will oppose Waukegan regional champ Thursday night.

Favored are Barrington at Palatine, Elgin at Crystal Lake, Leyden at Maine, and Evanston at Waukegan. Full house crowds were evident in the sectional at Heights last year and this year's tourney should bring the same.

One thing sure, those snappily dressed members of the ushers club are certain to make the whole deal "just like downtown."

Glenbrook's Borre Fourth In Wrestling

Spartan wrestlers Larry Borre and Phil Braum, under the coaching of Walter Sherman, did a creditable job at the state wrestling meet at Proviso Friday and Saturday.

Borre placed fourth in his class, and Braun went as far as the quarterfinals.

Card Runners In Meet Friday

First official indoor track meet of the season for Arlington Heights thinclads will be held Friday afternoon, March 5, at the University of Chicago fieldhouse where Uni High will be host to Palatine, Riverside-Brookfield, Arlington, Thornton Fractional and Morton.

With several boys ill the past week, what with nose stitches, foot fungus, strained back, colds, etc. (not one injury from track), Coach Russ Attis isn't too sure of his entrants in Friday's meet.

ON THE DOCKET for the match, though, are Ellis and Werner in the broad jump, Schimmel and Johnston in the high jump. In the shot it will be Winterbauer and Striegel and Michalski in the pole vault.

Carrying the colors in the 60 yard dash will be Ellis and Malcomson, with Ellis and Michalski slated to go in the 70 yard high hurdles. Ellis and Glueckert in the lows.

Distance medley, four of these six boys, Friesendorf, Koelling, Rankine, Drever, Grimm and Sheppard.

Sprint medley, four of these six, Hornbostel, Lussow, Schimmel, Sheppard, Waterman and Grimm.

880 relay, four of these six, Ellis, Frisk, Malcomson, Kennicott and Werner.

Two mile relay, four of these six, Sheppard, Rankine, Drever, Friesendorf and Aldrich.

STANDOUT MARKS of the squad to date, other than Dick Winterbauer's magnificent tosses of the shot (unofficial 55' once) are 4:58 and 4:59 in the mile by John Sheppard and Bob Rankine.

The squad worked out at Maine Wednesday of last week, though an official meet was not held. Workouts only were the order of the day.

First Call For Golfers At Arlington High

No sooner had Coach Curtis Larsen issued his first call for golfers Tuesday at Arlington Heights than the heavens opened up and down came the snow, plenty of it, along with colder weather forecast as we go to press.

But Coach Larsen did have a full slate of 18 matches to talk about and wanted a line on how many golfers will be available this year. Practice won't start until the middle of March, and even then will be dependent on the weather.

Schaeffer And Carlino Third And Fourth In State Wrestling

Vic Carlino and Bill Schaeffer carried the Cardinal and White to fourth and third places in the state wrestling finals Saturday at Proviso high school, Maywood, and brought Arlington four points in the process. The local school finished in a tie for tenth.

Wrestling at 95 pounds, Carlino lost his initial match to Frank Romano of Tilden. Because Romano won the championship, Carlino then went into eliminations for third place and won over Melvin Wheeler of Oswego in a lopsided decision, then did the same over Louis Pavnik of Thornton Fractional. In the final bout, however, Vic lost to Bob Nono of Riverside-Brookfield by one point.

SCHAEFFER WON his first two matches at 145 pounds easily, disposing of Bill Harker of Reavis, 5-2, and Leon Miller of Elgin, 7-0. Ben Crisler of Thornton, sensation of the entire meet, was too much for Schaeffer, and pinned the local grappler in 1:42 before going on to the championship.

In the consolation matches Schaeffer disposed of Russell Lewis of Urbana, 7-0, then pinned T. Sanchez of Wheaton in the third period for third place.

Dave Brant, Arlington's other grappler making the state finals, was pinned in 1:20 by George Ross of Tilden.

SCHAEFFER'S WORK had been particularly outstanding the last two weeks, improving with every match. In the sectional the week previous at Heights he had beaten two boys easily, one of whom had taken Schaeffer earlier, then lost to Bill's other opponent. He appeared to improve with each match at Proviso.

Carlino was just as outstanding finishing the season with an 18-3 mark. Thornton won the meet with 27 points, Rock Island scoring 22 for second place. Tilden of Chicago ranked third with 18. Crisler, last year's 133 pounds state champ, took the 145 pound class this time and is almost a cinch for next year at a still higher weight. He is presently a junior. Most coaches felt Crisler could have taken any weight up to 175, because of his strength and finesse.

Name All-Stars For Little 7 Cage League

The annual all-star selections for the Little 7 basketball league were named this week by coaches within the loop, composed of Central and St. Paul of Mount Prospect, St. James and St. Peter of Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Prospect Heights and Elk Grove schools.

These all-stars will play the coaches in the annual all-star-coaches game March 12 at Central school gym. This is perhaps the strongest all around aggregation of basketball stars since the formation of the league in 1951.

Each school is represented in the all-star ranks. Average height of the starting team will be 6 feet. Actually the all-stars are taller than the coaches' team.

The coaches wished Bob Paddock, who is leaving our ranks for private business, lots of luck in his new career. Bob has been a great help in making the league a success.

Following are the all-star selections for 1953-54:

Barrington and Palatine qualified to meet each other in the first game of Thursday night's regional semi-finals in the Palatine regional tournament by scoring one sided victories over Glenbrook and Ela-Vernon in first round play Tuesday evening. Barrington had to work for their 66-34 victory over Glenbrook due to the stalling and ball control tactics of the underdog Spartans.

Palatine led all the way against Ela-Vernon to win, 76-52, but it was not until midway in the third period that the Pirates broke away for a comfortable margin.

BARRINGTON'S small guards did most of their scoring. Roy DeWitz had five from the field and 10 out of 11 free throws for 20 points while Elmer Saveley had three from the field and 10 out of 13 charity shots for 16 points. Glenbrook held the ball and played keep away most of the first half in an effort to keep the score at a low figure. They accomplished this to some extent, though never had any hopes of winning.

The Bronchos led 26-6 at the half as Glenbrook took only two shots from the field and made one basket. The tempo of the game increased in the second half as Barrington forced the play harder but had to foul a good deal to make Glenbrook move the ball. Bizer of Glenbrook scored 12 points which included but one field goal. Glenbrook scored only four times from the field. Barrington had a good free throwing night with 28 out of 35. It was Barrington's 23rd win in 24 games.

PALATINE JUMPED to a 18-13 first period lead, extended it to 32-25 at the half, and then outscored the Ela Bears 16-7 in the third period to allow Coach Gene Moylan to relax the final eight minutes. Pete Abramson scored 23 points on nine from the field and five out of seven free throws. "Tinker" Meyer played his finest high school game setting up nearly half the Palatine field goals and getting 15 points himself as the team playmaker at guard.

Larry Hapke's defensive rebounding stood out for the Pirates who had the edge off the bank boards at both ends of the floor. Jim Hilbun had 16 points for Ela and Chaffin at center had 10 but got only two field goals.

Both teams committed 17 fouls and both hit brilliantly from the 15 foot line. Palatine sank 20 out of 26 free throws and Ela-Vernon 20 out of 27. The teams had previously split even in conference games. It was Palatine's 13th victory and their 12th in 14 games played since the Christmas holidays.

Antioch's basketball teams flashed some of their best ball of the season to defeat Grant in both games last Friday night and win a share of the conference championship. The Antioch varsity took the lead at the outset and was never in danger of being headed as they won 57-40. The frosh-sophs took an overtime decision 47-44.

The game results closed the season with Grant and Antioch tied in the varsity division with 11-3 records while Antioch, Grant, and Ela-Vernon tied for the frosh-soph title with 12-2 seasons.

The Bears had the visiting Grayslake Rams down, 23-6 the first quarter and 41-18 at the half. Coach Norm Ladd used subs a great part of the game with several from the frosh-sophs moved up to get ready for the tournament.

Palatine Tops Wauconda To Take Second

Palatine closed the Northwest conference season Friday night at Wauconda with a 49-46 victory to move past the Bulldogs in the standings with a 9-5 record, surpassed only by co-champs Grant and Antioch. The Pirates had the poise to come through a close finish with John Goetz scoring the final six points for Palatine.

The Pirates held a 24-23 first half lead and both teams scored 10 in the third period. In the final segment Palatine moved ahead by six points with two minutes to go. But Wauconda cut the margin to 47-46 with 15 seconds to go. Just before the buzzer sounded John Goetz hit from the field for the three point margin.

Another Bear

The Bears continued to strengthen their defense with the signing yesterday of "Chuck" Petter, former Northwestern star who recently completed two years of service in the quartermaster corps at Camp Lee, Va.

Petter is a native of Waukegan who was a sophomore linebacker and occasional offensive center on Northwestern's team that defeated California, 20-14, in the Rose Bowl Jan. 1, 1949. He was a regular the two following seasons and graduated in 1951.

the team to beat year after year. Warren, coached by Bob Kelton, oldest remaining coach of that era, always was a football contender, if not a champ. Kelton is now athletic director and track coach at Libertyville.

Three coaches in the Northwest conference of the early days have since moved up to head administrative positions in their schools. We refer to Wes Johnson at Bensenville, H. L. Wesner at Ela-Vernon, and Wade Steele at Leyden.

One of the oldest rivalries in the area, that of Libertyville-Warren, has identified with it a most friendly relationship over the years between the administrators who are this year retiring. Changes in conferences have found Warren going with Libertyville, regardless of differences in enrollment. They shifted into the Northeast and then more recently into the North Suburban where Warren was always the smallest school.

More recently when the Northwest conference and the North Suburban studied the future and decided on a shift of Barrington and Palatine to the North Suburban for Grayslake and Warren, the latter refused the transfer largely because of the long standing association and school traditions involving Libertyville.

Pirates Split At Zion-Benton

Palatine closed a 22 game basketball schedule Saturday at Zion-Benton with a split. The Palatine varsity took their 12th victory as against 10 defeats by staving off a late Zion rally to win 67-64. It was Palatine's 11th win in 13 games since the Christmas holidays. The Palatine frosh-soph dropped their 16th decision as against six wins, losing 52-46. The Palatine junior team played one of their best games.

Alan Eck got back into the scoring form of the January games and came out of a recent slump with a 25 point effort to pace the Pirates. Eck had 11 field goals in 17 field shots to lead Palatine's fast break offense. Bill Breyer got 14 and Pete Abramson 13 for Palatine. Zoephel, Zion center, scored 21 and Birmingham tallied 15 and Middleton 18 for the losers. Zion had a first division team in the North Suburban this season and only the Saturday before had beaten Antioch, Northwest champ, by a 13 point margin.

Palatine Wrestlers Lose To Leyden, 44-10

Palatine lost their final wrestling meet of the season at Leyden, 44-10. Palatine's only points were scored when Hauser won on a forfeit in the 95 pound class and Charles Grant pinned Nelson of Leyden.

Five Palatine boys were pinned as the Pirates suffered their worst defeat. The season closed with a record of six victories, seven defeats and one tie.

On Wrestling Squad At Cornell College

Bob Funston, 510 S. Northwest Hwy., Palatine, a junior at Cornell college, is currently the 177 pound contender on the varsity wrestling squad.

Funston returned to competition this season after winning a varsity letter and fourth place in the Midwest conference mat meet during his freshman season. Last year he was sidelined with a broken wrist.

Despite this lay-off Funston has been improving as the season progressed. In a recent meet at Minnesota university he took an easy decision over one of the tougher wrestlers in the Big Ten.

During the later part of the season, Funston has been assisting with the coaching of Cornell's top freshman mat squad which has yet to lose so much as an individual match in two starts.

Cornell's dual meet record so far this season is 4-3 with meets remaining before the big Midwest conference wrestling tournament to be held in the Rams' new fieldhouse home on March 5-6.

Libertyville Edges Grayslake Five, 53-52

Larry Ray, junior forward, scored 21 points to lead Libertyville's Wildcats to a 53-52 victory at Grayslake Saturday night. Grayslake led by Jay Hook's 20 points outscored the Cats from the field but lost the game at the free throw line. It was Libertyville's fourth win of the season in 20 games. Grayslake took the preliminary 43-42.

Maryville, who won the district tournament at St. Precopius earlier in the week, defeated Ela-Vernon last Saturday at Lake Zurich 67-65 in a very good ball game. Maryville led 33-29 at the half and was paced by Bill Nagle's 23 points. Glen Chaffin, Ela center, had his best game with nine from the field and 13 free throws for 31 points George Severance was second scorer for Ela with 12 points. Ela's northwest champs won the frosh-soph preliminary 58-36.

Arlington Ends League Play With Two Wins Over Maine

Dave Ryden's basket with 40 seconds to go provided the clincher for the Arlington Heights basketball team against Maine Friday night and ended league play with a 57-55 victory on the Heights floor. The frosh-sophs won, 72-56, to take second place in the league.

With Wayne Mueller out due to illness, Ryden led the parade at the basket for Coach Howard Lester with two free throws the opening quarter, two baskets the second period, a pair of charities the third frame, and three buckets and six free throws the final quarter for 20 points. He tallied ten in ten free throws.

THE CARDINALS scored just two buckets the opening period for a 12-11 margin, then fell behind at the intermission, 28-24. Baskets by five boys the third frame pushed the locals ahead, however, 38-36, to set the stage for the wild final stanza when each squad looped in 19 markers.

The game was the final home contest for most of the squad, with the exceptions being Jack Riggs and Dennis Maher among the regulars. Wayne Mueller, another junior, did not see action. High for Maine was Hatfield with 20 points.

Baseball Leaders Debate Merits Of Training Season

Why does spring training take so long? Seven weeks is a large hunk of time to reacquaint players with the positions of bases. Is it run for publicity, or for training? Does it pay off?

According to The Sporting News there are as many opinions as there are baseball officials. George Weiss, Yankee general manager, is a straight training guy. No ballyhoo.

"The publicity is secondary," Weiss states. Spring training should be what the term implies, without stunts or extended trips. Seven weeks is about right for a manager to size up new material, and the older player to work into shape without forcing himself."

Walter O'Malley, Dodger president, thinks of the dollar back home.

He says: "With advance ticket sales aimed at $500,000 breaking in late February, a club must have a publicity springboard, which the training season provides."

O'Malley makes a point! "Pro athletes can get into condition in much less time. But we need seven weeks to play games, which are vital to give every man a fair chance and let the manager get a good feel of his entire squad."

Frank Lane, White Sox general manager, is more hard-boiled. "Three weeks is plenty. You justify the rest on your publicity building up. A club spends about $75,000 on the average, and only the top-box-office draw can get back more than half in the exhibitions. But it's worth it."

Can Get Ballots For Relatives In Service

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier has called attention to an amendment to the State Election Code, adopted in 1951, whereby a father, mother, brother, sister, husband or wife of any person in the military or naval service may make application for a ballot to be mailed direct to the person in the service.

Application forms are available in the office of county clerks, or in those cities having boards of election commissioners the forms are available in the office of the election commission.

A Year Made A Big Difference For Ernie Banks, Now Of Cubs

What a difference a year can make!

A year ago, Ernie Banks was just out of the army and hoping he could land a regular job with the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American league. Today, the 23-year old shortstop is one of the key men in Cub plans for the 1954 National league pennant race.

Even more remarkable in the story of Banks, meteoric rise to the majors is that the youngster from Dallas didn't even play baseball until he was 17 years old. He had starred in basketball and track at Booker T. Washington high in Dallas, but since the school had no baseball team, Ernie took up softball.

A scout for an Amarillo Negro semipro team spotted Ernie and convinced him he could play baseball. Banks played with the Amarillo Colts and the touring Detroit Senators in 1948 and 1949. He happened to have a hot night in a game against one of the Kansas City Monarchs farm clubs so the Monarchs signed Banks, who then proceeded to hit .305 in 1950, clouting 15 homers.

The lanky 180-pound six footer was called to service, however, and wasn't discharged til last spring, and didn't think he'd make the Monarchs' first nine. But he did, however, and the rest is history.

Banks merely batted .380 to finish second in the league and powered 23 homers to top the circuit in that department. The Cubs bought his contract in September, and Ernie finished up the year with the Cubs, playing in 10 games while batting .314, getting two homers and six RBI's.

Bears Sign McElroy Hard Hitting Fullback

The Bears added the signed contract of a potentially great running back last week to a file that already includes the autographed papers of the outstanding college lineman of 1953; two highly regarded quarterbacks and a great defensive end.

They signed William "Bucky" McElroy, 6 foot, 195 pound fullback who gained more than 2,500 yards in three seasons at Mississippi Southern and was drafted by the Bears at the 1953 National Football League meeting.

The Bears were first tipped off to McElroy by H. Allen Smith, one of their stars of a couple seasons back and now line coach at Mississippi Southern. Smith said "'Bucky' is one of the greatest, hardest running fullbacks I've ever seen. I played against a lot of good backs in the National League and he rates right up there with the best of them. He can't miss giving the Bears an extra punch."

McElroy, married and the father of an infant daughter, hails from Monroe, La. He played a year at Hines, Miss. junior college before going to Mississippi Southern where, beginning his eligibility in 1951, he gained 854, 1,068 and 666 yards in as many successive seasons. He also is a deadly place kicker and a punter.

His yardage might have been greater last season except that he became a key blocker on offense and sacrificd many opportunities for personal gain. He also was a linebacker on defense.

Local Winners In Sports Car Rally

Norm Carlson, Box 25, Itasca, took second place in the men's division of the Hare and Hounds rally of the MG car club held Sunday.

Norm drove his silver Porshe over the three and a half hour 64 mile trip without missing a single clue.

Points were subtracted for not maintaining the required 22 mile an hour average speed, missing check points, failure to find the clues, etc.

Sixty-nine other drivers started in the rally from the Brookfield Zoo and finally ended in Addison for a victory dinner where Norm was awarded a miniature MG in a plastic case suitably enscribed.

Ralph Weinberg of Bensenville was the winner.

Tickets On Sale

The International Boxing Club, announced that tickets for the ten round light heavyweight bout between Harold Johnston of Philadelphia, and Paul Andrews of Buffalo, N. Y., in the Chicago Stadium, March 17, went on sale at the stadium box-office this week.

The new trampoline at Palatine high school will be unveiled between halves of the faculty-lettermen's game Saturday night, March 13. Shown above is Don Underwood, caught halfway through a back flip as Boots Crofoot, Ron Stejskal and Bob Murzyn looked on. —McKee Photo.

Blackhawks Win Three In North Shore League

Wheeling Blackhawks extended their winning streak to 10 games by taking three games in the North Shore league. Last Wednesday the Hawks met the Aptakisic All-Stars in the Wheeling gym. Wheeling took an early lead and held it for the entire four quarters to come out on top 104-58. The Hawks had too much heighth and scoring ability for Aptakisic.

The first quarter saw the All-Stars on the short end of a 23-12 score. Although the All-Stars put up a battle throughout the first half the Hawks lead at half time 48-30. Vic Heimsoth was high for the Hawks with 27, while Vic Lesch was runner-up with 25. Dee Busch lead Aptakisic with 21 markers.

THE HAWKS whipped Kleinschmidt Laboratories cagers, 118-61 at the Northbrook gym Thursday. The Hawks jumped to a 26-14 lead in the first quarter and sailed on to an easy victory. Having only five players, the Hawks had the advantages of speed and heighth.

Wheeling led Kleinschmidt's after the opening quarter until the final minute of play. A 22 point barrage in the second period of play put the Hawks ahead at half time 58-27. Vic Lesch led the Hawks attack with 15 field goals and seven free throws for a total of 37 points. Vic Heimsoth was runner-up with 28 markers. Haras as high for the losers with 20.

Palatine made a fight of it for the first half, which finished with the Blackhawks on the long end of a 40-34 score. The Hawks scored 21 points to 11 of Palatine's in the third quarter. The fourth quarter was about even as far as the score was concerned.

Plan For Evergreens In The Late Winter

Unlike most shrubs used to make homes more attractive, evergreens add beauty the year round. And late winter, when most of your shrubs are at their worst, is the best time to plan for evergreens.

Harleigh Kemmerer, University of Illinois landscaping specialist, lists four uses that evergreens will serve in nearly all Illinois farm home plantings:

1. They can "spruce up" the views from the inside out. Many homes, Kemmerer says, are well landscaped when you look at them from the outside, but winter views from inside the house are often drab.

2. They make good "accents" for the other shrubbery in your lawn, as well as for doorway entrances and other building features.

3. They make good screens to hide ugly buildings or other ugly views that don't fit into the picture your home makes.

4. Some evergreens are simply pretty to look at. Some are pretty from a distance. Others such as a small one growing along the walk, are nice to look down on.

Big Ten Track Meet This Week

One hundred ninety-four of the Middle West's best track and field performers will vie for individual and team titles in the 44th Annual Big Ten Indoor track and field championships Friday and Saturday (March 5 and 6) in University of Illinois Armory.

Michigan, seeking its first crown since 1945, has entered the meet's largest squad, 34 men, and the Wolverines rate equally with defending champion, Illinois, as a favorite for the title.

Coach Leo Johnson's Illini squad is small—he has 16 entries—but showed exceptional strength in downing Michigan in a dual meet two weeks ago by a three-point margin.

WHILE MICHIGAN and Illinois stand out as principal contenders for the title, several observers figure these two could be edged by either Michigan State or Indiana in the new, enlarged meet which includes 300, 600, and 1,000 yard races in addition to the normal 12-event program.

Big Ten records are endangered in two events, the 880-yard run and the high jump. Both Gene Maynard of Illinois and Peter Gray of Michigan have been timed in 1:52.4 in the half-mile this year, bettering the present mark held by Stacy Siders of Illinois by three-tenths of a second.

RON MITCHELL of Illinois, who holds the conference high jump record of 6 feet 7¼ inches, has jumped 6'7 5-8" this year and could break his own mark under pressure from his chief rival, Mark Booth of Michigan.

Spring Pigs On TV

This spring's crop of pigs in Illinois will be discussed on the "Farmtown, U. S. A." television program Sunday, March 7.

LaVerne Johnson, DeKalb county hog farmer, will be guest on the show. Johnson, who raises 1,000 hogs a year on his 330-acre farm, specializes in cross-bred pigs.

Frank Wilcox, manager of Country Mutual Casualty company, will also appear to explain an "Honor Pledge" for youthful drivers which the company is promoting. Country Casualty is an insurance company affiliated with the Illinois agricultural association, state-wide Farm Bureau organization.

Support of the reduction in price supports on dairy products from 90 to 75 per cent of parity has been expressed by the board of directors of the Illinois agricultural association.

Secretary of agriculture Ezra Benson recently announced that the supports on dairy products will be reduced to 75 per cent of parity effective April 1.

The action of the IAA directors was in accord with the flexible price support policy adopted by the delegates to the state-wide Farm Bureau organization's annual meeting last November.

THE BOARD, in monthly session, agreed that the lower milk and butterfat prices will create an immediate hardship on dairymen. They said, however, that following the initial adjustment, the result should be a firmer market and more healthy situation for the future.

Continuation of the rigid, 90 per cent support level in effect during the past year, would have resulted in a further build up of the already burdensome stock of dairy rpoducts in government storage, the board said.

Lower prices now will remove some of the incentive for further increases in milk production, and should also encourage increased consumption of some dairy products—particularly creamery butter.

CONTINUATION of the 90 per cent support level would necessarily lead to administratively controlled milk production and ultimately to nationalization of the dairy industry, the board noted.

This would have the same deadening effect on American agriculture as it had on the agriculture of many European countries in the past.

Farm Youths Start 'Safe Driving Club'

A safe driving club for Illinois farm youths was started March 1.

This announcement came today from Frank V. Wilcox, manager of Country Mutual Casualty company an affiliate company of the Illinois agricultural association. The IAA is the state-wide farm bureau organization representing more than 200,000 farmers.

"The alarming percentage of automobile accidents in Illinois and the United States attributed to teen-age drivers has prompted us to demonstrate our faith in the driving ability of Illinois farm youth," Wilcox said. "Tentatively called the 'Pledge Your Honor' club, the new youth organization has as its primary purpose the promotion of a more safety-conscious group of young rural drivers." he said.

MEMBERSHIP in the club is open to all dependent Farm Bureau members under 22 years of age. Eligible 'teen agers become a member of the club upon signing an honor pledge that they will observe all safe driving rules. The 'teen ager's father or mother also signs the pledge and it becomes an honor agreement between the club member and his parents.

With the inauguration of the safe driving club, the company also announced a "name" contest for the new club. A month-long contest to begin March 1, it is open to all 'teen agers who become members of the club. The winning entry will be awarded a $25.00 savings bond and a framed scroll attesting that his entry was selected as the winner. Illinois Farm youths desiring to join the club may contact the Country Mutual Casualty representative at their local Farm Bureau office for entry blanks. Policy holders of the Country Mutual Casualty Company are predominantly Illinois farmers.

Rover Can Catch Pneumonia, Too

You take care that your farmstock doesn't catch pneumonia in the winter. But you shouldn't forget old Rover.

He's out in some pretty rough weather too and can catch pneumonia just as easily as your other animals.

Dr. A. G. Schiller of the college of veterinary medicine at the University of Illinois says to call your veterinarian at once if your dog loses his appetite, has a runny nose, difficulty in breathing or a fever. Don't put it off, or he may die.

The professional show troupe is well known throughout the midwest for its appearances at hundreds of fairs and other community events, including the national plow matches.

The show is headed by Maggie and Scotty, husband and wife team. Scotty began his musical career as a young boy, forming his first band while in high school. He has since entertained with various hillbilly and western artist, and was once a member of the famed "Royal Swedish Bell Ringers" of stage, radio and movies.

Check Your LP Gas Installations

Ever wonder whether your LP gas installation is as safe as it should be?

Like every other fuel, says University of Illinois farm safety specialist Gordon McCleary, LP gas must be stored and handled right if you're going to get the safest, most satisfactory results. If you want to know whether your installation is the best possible, look at the "code."

The "code" is a pamphlet on safe storage and handling of liquefied petroleum gas. It is published by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, and the rules set forth in the code have been accepted as law in Illinois.

Every LP gas dealer and fire insurance company inspector should have a copy of the code. If your dealer has done a good safe job of installation, he won't mind checking your system against the code.

If he doesn't know the code, better call on your fire insurance company inspector. As a starter you might check the location of your tank. If it holds between 125 and 500 gallons, it must be ten feet from any important buildings. Tanks holding from 501 to 2000 gallons should be 25 feet from buildings; and if you transfer the gas into a tractor or other tank, the job should be done 50 feet from buildings.

This is a sample of the rules set up to protect users of LP gas. Making sure your system is safely installed may save an expensive fire or even a life.

IAA Endorses State Redistricting

The redistricting of Illinois legislative districts may get the approval of the voters next November by the action of the Illinois Agricultural Association last November. Illinois legislature reached an agreement last year that the house districts should be according to population, which would give Cook county the edge in that branch, while the senatorial districts shall be determined by size, which would enable downstate to retain its control over the state senate.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the IAA has been named co-chairman of the Illinois Committee for Constitutional Revision.

The committee will campaign to remap legislative districts in Illinois. Citizens will vote November 2 for a constitutional amendment passed by the State Legislature last year which would redistrict

Good Records Important For Modern Farming

To keep up to date in your farming, you have to keep good records. Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees explains that changes in farming have made records almost as important as the tractor in modern-day farming.

For instance, he explains, farmers today are faced with high income tax rates, social security for farm workers and high farming costs, none of which were important problems to the farmer 10 or 15 years ago.

Besides giving you a convenient receord for use in figuring your income tax, a good set of records helps you locate the leaks in your farm business.

MEES RECOMMENDS two record systems, depending on just what you want. The Illinois Farm Record Book is a simplified, easy-to-keep record book that is adequate for tax reports and provides some standards for judging farm efficiency. You can get a copy of this book at very low cost from his office.

The Illinois farm business record book, with membership in a cooperative farm management association, enables you to keep a more complete record of your farm business and gives you a detailed analysis of your business. It also includes the help of a fieldman in accounting and farm management and will provide the information you need for figuring taxes.

LAW on the FARM

Fire Protection Districts

In 1927 The Illinois legislature passed a law under which farmers or farmers and town residents in a particular area may organize a fire protection district. Since that date more than 400 districts have been organized in Illinois.

Such a district may be organized only in an area in which all the land is adjoining. Proceedings are commenced by a petition signed by fifty or more legal voters, or by a majority if there are fewer than 100 legal voters in the proposed area. The petition is directed to the county judge and must contain the name and a definite description of the proposed district.

After the petition is filed, the judge advertises and conducts a hearing at which all persons in the area can be heard on the question of location and boundaries. Following the hearings, the boundaries are definitely fixed, and within sixty days an election is held on the question of organization. All legal voters in the area are entitled to vote, and the district is established if a majority of the vote favors organization. If both rural and village areas are included, there must be a favorable majority in each area.

A FIRE PROTECTION district is governed by three trustees appointed by the county judge for three years, one to be appointed annually after the first appointment of trustees.

Once organized, a fire protection district is required by law to provide " as nearly adequate protection from fire for all property within the district as possible . . . "

So that a district may function effectively, the law provides that it may do the following:

1. Prescribe necessary regulations for the prevention and control of fire.
2. Contract with adjacent cities or villages for fire protection.

3. CONTRACT FOR the installation, rental or use of hydrants.
4. Contract for a water supply.
5. Borrow money and issue bonds, following an election on the question.
6. Acquire land within the district for necessary use.
7. Build houses for fire apparatus.
8. Select a fire chief and necessary firemen, and fix their terms and compensation.
9. Pass all necessary ordinances, rules and regulations.
10. Adopt and enforce ordinances for the necessary protection of sources of water.
11. Purchase needed equipment from any available source.
12. Annex territory upon petition.
13. Disconnect territory upon petition.

Record Cow

Averaging 24 quarts daily, Canary Belle Posch Lass, a registered Holstein owned by Mrs. Dorothy Hammerstein, Roselle, recently completed an official herd improvement registry production record totalling 15,683 lbs. milk and 633 lbs. butterfat in 365 days.

Milked two times daily, Canary Belle was seven years, eight months of age when her test began. Her total was about three times the production of the average U. S. cow.

Improvement Needed In Soybean Grades Here

Present soybean grade standards actually encourage the marketing of dirty soybeans.

Since restrictions were relaxed in 1949, the percent of foreign material in soybeans arriving at principal markets has doubled. According to a survey of six midwest markets by the .U S. department of agriculture, 62 per cent of the soybeans received in 1949 contained less than two percent of foreign material. In 1953 only 31 percent contained less than two percent.

UNTIL 1949 only two percent of foreign matierial was allowed in No. 2 soybeans. Since then three percent is allowed.

According to L. F. Stice, University of Illinois farm economist, tightening of these standards would improve the soybean market in four ways:

It would increase the value of the soybeans. Prices are not based on three percent of foreign material. Each increase of one percent in foreign material actually decreases prices one percent. At amounts to three cents a bushel.

IT WOULD MAKE U. S. soybeans more attractive to the foreign market, which now complains about trash in our beans.

It would reduce shipping charges. It costs as much to ship a pound of trash as to ship a pound of beans.

It would encourage producers and dealers to keep dirt and trash out of beans. Under the present system, in which there is no premium for beans with less than three percent of foreign material, the producer of clean beans is actually penalized.

Prevent Mastitis To Increase Farm Production

You can increase your dairy profits by "managed-milking."

E. E. Ormiston, University of Illinois Dairy Department, lists these 10 simple steps as helpful in controlling mastitis, the most prevalent and costly disease in dairy cows:

1. Prepare the cow for milking by washing the udder and teats with a mild disinfectant. Use disposable paper towels or individual udder cloths. Cloths should be washed after each use.

* * *

2. USE A STRIP cup on each cow at each milking.

3. Dip the teat cups in a mild disinfectant, and rinse after use on each cow.

4. Remove milker from each cow as soon as she is "milked out."

5. Operate the machine at the speed and vacuum level specified by the manufacturer.

6. Keep the teat cup inflations in good condition.

7. STERILIZE and clean inflations following each milking.

8. Milk mastitis-infected cows last.

9. Isolate severe cases of mastitis.

10. Keep the barn in sanitary condition and the lots free from mud.

Ormiston points out that mastitis-free herds produce more milk. Moreover, the milk will have a lower bacteria count, which could well make the difference between meeting or failing to meet Grade A requirements.

Swing your partners!—Lynn "Woody" Woodward, center, nationally known square dance caller who appears in the new color movie, "Romance: Country Style," chats with the Maggie and Scotty stage show troupe. The film will be shown free to farm families of this area as part of the Doughboy good neighbor farm party. The western entertainers will appear in person at Arlington Heights high school's girls' gym March 5.

Soil Conservation Group Holds Annual Meeting

Members, guests and friends of the North Cook county soil conservation district and extension service gathered at the second annual dinner meeting of the group at Schaumburg Center last week to hear reports of the group's activities for the past year, elect officers, and be entertained by guest speakers.

Emil Hattendorf of HAnover township, chairman of the North Cook district, presided at the conclusion of dinner served by ladies of St. Peter's Lutheran school.

Chairman Hattendorf said that "after reviewing past accomplishments, it is well for us to pause and ask ourselves: What is the job ahead? Our soil, as you know, is our basic resource. It supplies food, fibre, shelter, tools for our hands, and the materials for our industry.

"THE EXPANDING population means a far greater demand for these things. In order to meet this, farmers must put every acre to its proper use.

"Records show that where a good active soil conservation district is in operation, the whole community benefits. Therefore, we ask all of you to join with us in protecting our top soil. It will pay and give you the satisfaction of being a part of this huge soil conservation movement . . ."

Minutes of the 1953 meeting were read by Wilmer Rohlwing, Elk Grove township, secretary-treasurer of the soil conservation district, and were followed by a treasurer's report.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS for 1954-55 was then held with Hattendorf being re-elected chairman, tary-treasurer, and R. X. Schmid of Barrington township being re-elected a director. Elmer Wente, Palatine township, vice-chairman, and Arnold Brockman, also Palatine township, a director, have an additional year of their present terms yet to serve, their posts not being up for election.

Maurice M. Umbdenstock, Arlington Heights, soil conservationist for the district, gave a brief report, noting that "the basis for any good land use program is the preparation of a soil survey. This determines the best rotation or practices needed to assure the greatest returns under good land management. The staff working with 66 farmers, has 7287 acres of soil surveyed this year with a total of 19,182 acres.

CARL F. MEES, Arlington Heights, Cook county farm advisor said: "If we continue to be a well fed nation and have prosperous agriculture, we must preserve our one great heritage, the soil. Our soil is being wastefully destroyed each year. It is only through a sound educational and conservation program can this be eliminated . . ."

Mees added that "teaching people to take care of the soil is a challenge to each one of us."

"What's New In Crop Varieties", was discussed by W. O. Scott of Champaign, a member of the University of Illinois' Agronomy department, following which Tom Kelly, a former cartoonist with major newspapers, gave an illustrated talk on, "There's More to Dirt Than Meets the Eye." Kelly is from Milwaukee, and once was associated with the Soil Conservation Service.

March 6-14 Set For National 4-H Club Week

Illinois 4-H Club members will be working hard during national 4-H Club Week March 6-14, to enroll new members for the year.

Miss Anna Searl and E. I. Pilchard, state leaders of home economics and Agricultural 4-H Clubs rsepectively, report that 4-H Club Week is also the time when the rural youngsters review their accomplishments and get their last or remaining projects started for 1954.

CLUB MEMBERS all over the state will have the help of volunteer local leaders, extension workers and many other friends of 4-H observing this special week. Some of the observance ceremonies will feature rallies, open house events, exhibits and window displays.

"To Make the Best Better" will be the theme of the 1954 Club Week observance. More than two million 4-H'ers all over the country will be making their plans for the coming year to help in community activities, produce more food and fiber in their project work and improve their home farm living.

Any rural boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 21 years of age can belong to a 4-H club. Get more information on club work from your county farm or home adviser.

In The Future

This summer's silage can be put up more appetizingly with a new chemical additive. Cows prefer it four to one, says its maker . . . A new cleaner for painted walls, woodwork, linoleum, venetian blinds and tiles can be diluted so that a tablespoonful cleans 200 square feet of surface . . . A Boston inventor says he has perfected a tanning machine that makes leather in hours. Traditional methods take weeks or even months . . . Emergency fire extinguishers using a squeezable plastic bag are said to be as good and much cheaper than the older kind which depend on a pump . . . Liquid detergents are adding foam-producing ingredients. Doesn't get things cleaner, but housewives associate soap bubbles with cleanliness.

Music Educators To Meet March 8

The In - And - About - Chicago music educators club will hold a dinner meeting Monday evening, March 8, at 6:00 p.m. at the Greenwood Elementary school in Waukegan. During the evening a program of elementary grade music will be presented by the school children, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Greener, elementary grade music supervisor, Mr. Bernard Steiner, instrumental music director, and Mrs. Phyllis Parshall, who will direct a string ensemble. The program will also include selections by choral groups, creative rhythmic activities, and folk dancing.

At Orchestra Hall

The violinist, Ricardo Obnoposoff, will make his debut as soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra at the season's twenty-second pair of subscription concerts Thursday, March 11, at 8:15 p.m. and Friday, March 12, at 2:00 p.m. in Orchestra Hall.

Fritz Reiner has planned an all-Beethoven program for the season's tenth Tuesday Concert by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra on March 9 at 2:00 p.m. in Orchestra Hall.

'Rule Of Law' At N.U.

"The Rule of Law in the United Nations" will be discussed by Israel's ambassador to the United States at 4 p.m. Monday, March 8 in Levy Mayer hall of Northwestern University's law school, 357 E. Chicago ave., Chicago. The talk by Abba Eban, who also is his nation's permanent U.N. representative, will be free and open to the public.

Earliest Blooms Of Spring Shown By Silver Maples

Treedom's earliest harbinger of Spring—often preceding the inevitable robin—is the silver maple which unfolds its blossoms the very first warm days of February and March.

This happy ability to lend a trace of color to seasonally drab landscapes is a favorable attribute of a species that may have more vices than virtues.

Badly overplanted a generation ago, according to E. T. Bowen, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Company, it still has a place in the landscape scene. Its rapid growth, attractive foliage and resistance to soot and smoke help to compensate for its brittle branches.

Individual blooms are male or female, but both sexes are present on the same tree. Colors range from greenish-yellow to touches of red.

The silver maple scoffs at the calendar with its early display of flowers, beautiful in a miniature way, but by no means spectacular. Except for their happy profusion they probably would go unnoticed. The petalless clusters form on slender twigs and ruggedly hold on for several weeks. They withstand amazingly low temperatures and still their seeds fertilize readily.

In disrepute in recent years because of its brittleness and because it grows too large for modern homes and streets, the silver maple still contributes late Winter beauty when other trees are wholly bare.

Bits O' Business

Texas allowable production of oil was raised, but the Texas Railroad Commission warned that gasoline stocks were getting too high . . . Pacific Coast lumber prices have edged up a dollar or two a thousand . . . The government's wholesale price index stood still in the week of February 10-16 . . . Interest on crop support loans to farmers was cut from 4 per cent to 3½ per cent.

Some Paris 'Doctors' Use Hypnosis Instead of Cures On 'Their Public'

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Appearing this week is the first in a series of features telling of different aspects of life in Europe, written by Bill Dillingham, traveling newspaper writer.

There are more quack-doctors in Paris today than there were in all of Europe during the middle of the twelfth century. Charms, amulets and swinging pendulums have allied themselves with the legitimate medical profession and are solidly engaged in the fight against human misery.

The French faculty of medicine, however, isn't at all pleased about the alliance.

The center of this pseudo-medical class is found in Paris' Latin Quarter. Along the Boul. St. Michel one can find any number of Arab, Indian, Asiatic and French practioneers. To make contact, it is only necessary for the customer to carry an expression of pain on his face. Medical men from all corners of the earth will descend upon the fellow.

HYPNOSIS, of course, is the right-hand operator in all such cases. Accredited physicians have used hypnosis as an emergency anesthetic in many operations, and with no awareness of pain on the part of the patient. The force of this psychological phenomenon is a strong one, and it is certainly well utilized by many who practice it in certain areas of Paris.

It is a simple matter for one of these more skilled hypnotists to temporarily remove all types of bodily pain. Such a feat can be seen at any time of the day in the Latin Quarter. These hypnotists, however, rarely reach the cause of the patient's malady. It is on this reason that the French physicians are basing their strongest objections. The hypnotist removes the pain and leaves the physical problem unattended and free to worsen.

CURRENTLY rather popular in Paris, one Frenchman is operating along lines of American mass production. He has employees walking over the streets of the city carrying posters on their backs advertising his amazing abilities. At an appointed time, the new patients that he has been able to recruit form a line and present themselves for therapy. He practices a type of group hypnosis.

He stations himself on a platform and administers his power to the members of the column one by one. They received a combination of Chinese, Arabic and Hindustani words, mixed in with some mysterious movements that leaves the patient feeling like a new man.

TO START the ball rolling, the first five "patients" in the column are regular employees who, one after another, leave the platform and display to the others their complete cure. These first five hobble up to the hypnotist on crutches being carried by friends, crawling, or shaking like rubber bands. In a moment they dance away smiling, leaving their sticks and crutches in the corner, and praising the mysterious healer.

The waiting column, of course, is almost cured before it reaches the platform. For them, temporary therapy is a simple matter. On their way out they are in a good state of mind, and that is when they pass the cashier.

Harris To Speak

A conference for teachers and school administrators on art, music, and dramatics will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday, Mar. 6, in Northwestern university's Thorne hall, Superior st. and Lake Shore dr., Chicago. Sydney Harris will speak.

Radio Open House

Captain John M. Conway, 1983 Welwyn drive, Des Plaines, a member of the program committee of the 305th radio broadcasting and leaflet group, announces an open house to be held by his army reserve unit from 2 to 5 p.m., Sunday, March 7.

The unit's 5,000 watt radio station and its complete photo-offset printing plant will be on display in the North armory, Devon and Kedzie, just east of the Lincoln Village shopping center.

These Hawaiian maidens and two musicians met the editors on their arrival at Honolulu airport.

The Editor Goes To Hawaii

There is a lot of difference between sun bathing on Waikiki Beach, Hawaii and watching war games in the North Atlantic. In this editor's life, they are three months and 10,000 miles apart.

The stories of those North Atlantic gales, the heavy clothing and the sound of those jet fighters were forgotten as this editor joined a group of National Editorial members and flew from Los Angeles to the most perfect vacation spot on this earth, the Hawaiian Islands.

We have been asked many questions about Hawaii. On the chance that some of our answers might be interesting to readers of this paper, we are again "taking our pen in hand."

HAWAII was not in existence when the Deity separated the land and the sea. It rose up by volcanic action many thousands of years later. It was not discovered by modern man until 300 years after Columbus. To the residents on the Hawaiian Islands, the United States is not a different country. It is just the mainland of Hawaii.

Captain Cook landed on the island of Kaui in 1778. He was murdered there after he tried to double cross the friendly natives.

No Knights of the Round Table were more brave and bigger fighters than were the Hawaiian chieftains who were so big and mighty that their beds were as wide as they were long. They had to be that way because the Hawaiian queens weighed between 300 and 400 pounds. Museums of that country have the beds and pictures to prove that statement.

The editor recalls the geography books of sixty years ago that listed the Islands as the Sandwich group, named after Earl Sandwich who outfitted the Dr. Cook expedition. He also recalls the days of early 1890's when pictorial weeklies carried cartoons of President Grover Cleveland flirting with Queen Lil, who, ousted by the natives had appealed to United States for succor.

Uncle Sam did order England and other nations to keep their hands off and then sat down and waited until Hawaiian people asked to get under Uncle Sam's protective arm. We annexed Hawaii in 1898 according to history books, but Hawaii thinks that 55 years is long enough to wait for statehood.

HAWAIIANS have fairy tales that outshine many that our children are told. Their guides have told them so many times that they expect the visitors to accept them. Occasionally, a veteran visitor will respond with Ho-o-mali-mali, which in English means "apple sauce." The guides invite the visitor to catch them at "fairy-telling."

The early Hawaiians had no written language. The brightest son carried down to the next generation the history of their forefathers, repeating it word for word, say the guides. The first inhabitants of Hawaii are supposed to have been the Menehunes only two or three fet tall. About 300 A.D. the first of the Tahitians in outrigger canoes were driven ashore by a big storm. The Menehunes, frightened by the size of the visitors, took to the hills. They were like good fairies to the big men and would come down out of the hills at night and perform good deeds. As dawn started to break, they would again disappear.

As evidence of the existence of the small people, the guides point to a wall built across a small bay thereby establishing a "fish pond" that made fishing easy for the new residents. The guides repeat the story as a truth. The guide books call it a legendary tale. There is no nicer or prettier place in which to accept fairy tales than in the fairy country of Hawaii.

THE TEMPERATURE of the islands is 70 in February and 78 in July. Its weather is so far ahead of Florida and California that it seems rather strange that more vacationists are not making annual visits to its shores.

Because there are 2,200 miles of water between the United States and Hawaii, a visitor cannot use an auto to get there. He has choice of either flying or a 4½ day ocean trip on a luxury liner, which charges as much or more than collected for a trip to Europe.

Plan travel is becoming the popular method and a tourist fare of only $255 a round trip puts it in reach of many vacationers. A tourist Pan American plane carries over 90 passengers and makes the trip in eight to nine hours.

Persons taking a plane trip over the ocean for the first time, may become a little disturbed when the stewardess standing in the aisle shows how to don a life belt and how to inflate it, "after you leave the plane." She prefaces the lesson with "just in case."

THE HULA HULA girls always meet the luxury liners. They take it for granted that only important persons have enough money to pay the fare for that transportation. They only meet the tourist planes when some important party like editors, are arriving.

The leis that are placed around the necks of visitors are usually made up of 400 tiny orchids. They last for days.

Our readers, of course, are not interested particularly in where and what we ate, but the first dinner was a ten course Chinese banquet served at $50.00 a table at the San Yei Chai. It was in this restaurant that the Japanese officers on Saturday, Dec. 6, 1941, entertained American officials and Navy men, getting them as drunk as possible so that they would not be in fighting condition the next morning when the attack on Pearl Harbor occurred.

THE HAWAIIANS had no language or written records until after the arrival of the Congregational missionaries in 1820. They provided five vowels and 12 consonants. These missionaries married into the Royal family, and became rich. Under the influence of their wives, their estates were left in trust for the benefit of education. Chief among these is the Bishop estate, which is said today to be worth many millions of dollars and is the chief support for many of the schools designed originally for only Hawaiians.

It is estimated that out of half million residents there are not over 5,000 inhabitants who are pure bred Hawaiians. The first Chinese came in 1852; the first Japanese in 1885; and early this century, the Portugese, Spanish and Russians arrived. The mixture of so many blood bans any race segregation. Each native freely tells of the blood mixture in his veins.

The pure Hawaiian, usually tall, is ever ready to announce that fact. The intermarraige has lowered the prevailing stature of the inhabitants of the islands.

Every native there today talks excellent English, but names of families, streets, mountains, and many articles of dress, are Hawaiian, and it is a bright tourist who can get the pronunciation correctly.

A Few Questions To '100' Committee

Mt. Prospect, Ill.
March 2, 1954

Congratulations on a beautiful campaign in defeating the proposal to build a new high school. While we do not share your views, we sincerely hope that time eventually proves you right. If in 1956 or 1958 you are proved wrong, irrevocable harm will have been done to our educational program.

Having accomplished your objective in a whirlwind propaganda campaign, we wonder if, after all of your demands for information from the High School Board, you will in turn publish some facts about your organization. You, of course, convinced a majority of the voters, but at least some of us are still a bit skeptical. For example, we're frankly interested in your factual answers to such questions as the following:

1. May we see a published list of the entire Committee of One Hundred?

2. How many of the Committee have children approaching high school age? How many are parents of children who have already completed High School? How many have children who will attend Parochial High Schools?

3. Why was not action taken by the driving forces in the Committee at the time we voted to purchase land for the new high school?

4. Do you have in your group any recognized experts or consultants whose testimony on the program could be considered as on a par with the Northwestern University and University of Illinois authorities who advised the High School Board?

5. How many, if any, of your members have attended High School Board Meetings during the past two years? Prior to the recent "campaign," did any of you raise any of the so-called major points of your protests for answer at School Board Meetings?

6. Does your Committee as a whole really believe there is no need for a second high school?

a. If this is your belief, on what facts and authority is it based?
b. If this is not your belief, what alternative do you suggest?

7. You refer in your publicity releases to apparent lack of consideration in School Board Calculations for the fact that new Catholic High School facilities are planned. In your own presentations, you made no mention of enrollment in present Catholic Grade Schools, for whom these new facilities are planned. Do you think that your treatment of this factor was either fair or factual?

8. Speaking of facts and figures, we refer to paragraph 3 of your 4-page bulletin released a day or two before the election. How do you arrive at a total enrollment of only 2,167 in 1961, when present enrollment in the first four grade school grades is now 2,997—without any move-ins? Remember, the children in these grades now will be in High School in 1961.

9. In the same release, you refer to various educational "frills" offered by our present high school. Is your group qualified from an educational and experience background to determine the value of the various courses offered? Besides, what bearing has this question of yours upon the validity of the proposal to build a new High School?

10. Do you really believe the new High School Program is "hasty" and "poorly defined," in the face of evidence that initial planning began during Mr. Knoeppel's third year at Arlington?

11. Do you believe that High School Board members, either through ignorance of legal regulations or with deliberate purpose, would undertake a program beyond the bonding limits prescribed by law? This appears to be the meaning of paragraph 9 in the same release previously mentioned.

12. In paragraph 10 of that release, you create the impression that our "very welcome newcomers" would be subjected to some substantial lump sum payment at once, plus the additional tax for the new school. Would their property tax be handled in a manner different from our own? In what respect?

13. You say, "Let's lay all the cards on the table," and "Do you think you are entitled to full information?" Tell us now, what cards were not put on the table? What pertinent facts were not presented by the School Board? And, gentlemen, let us stick to PERTINENT FACTS.

14. May we have the names of the "small selfish group" which "influences School Board decisions on matters in which one or more members of that group stands to make a profit?" That's a serious charge, and if true, we should know the facts. Can you back up this statement?

15. Finally, to each of the Committee of One Hundred we address the question, "What really were your true motives for campaigning so ardently to defeat the bonding program?" Actually, we really, don't expect an answer to this question—we merely suggest a bit of real self-analysis for your guidance when the new High School Program comes up for consideration again in the near future.

So much for questions. We wonder if the Committee of One Hundred will maintain its interest in school problems, or whether, with a congratulatory exchange of handshakes, its members will sink back into their easy chairs having "completed" their function. Time will tell.

O, yes, just one other thing. We all owe the Committee a standing vote of thanks for an outstanding lesson which should make us all stop and think. We have now seen how terrifically effective a program of propaganda can be . . . a program based on emotional rather than factual appeal . . . innuendo . . . special groups . . . questions insidiously designed to create doubt and to destroy confidence.

The word "WHY" is an extremely effective word. Many of us are wondering as to the "WHY" of your motives.

We really are shocked at the result of the vote, and not a little concerned about the future of our children's education. And incidentally, the tax bill would be just as heavy proportionately for us as for you.

We'll be waiting for your answers — and again, we hope, for our children's sake and for your sake that YOU are right and WE are wrong.

Very truly yours,

Must Have Sidewalk

The question of sidewalks in Mt. Prospect is very simple, and there can be but one answer. We must have them. We must have them for the separation of pedestrian and automobile traffic in our streets, in order to provide the maximum amount of safety for pedistrians and automobiles.

It is regrettable that many of my friends and neighbors will be obliged to spend some money to provide sidewalks that should have been furnished by the subdivider at the time the subdivision was laid out, or at least by the builder at the time he built the house. It may also be a disappointment to many people who enjoy an extensive front yard but who ignore the fact that a part of that front yard does not belong to them and they pay no taxes for it.

In Prospect Manor subdivision the streets are 66 feet wide and include two parkways each 20 feet wide. The parkway is the property of the village and is designed to include a sidewalk about one foot out from the property line. The elevation of the sidewalk has been established by ordinance at about six or seven inches above the top of the curb; this should have been considered at the time any permanent garage driveways were installed.

The location of the sidewalk should be at the property line, for maximum safety, freedom from splashing by passing cars, and facility in removal of snow from sidewalks. Street snowplows throw snow over onto curb-sidewalks. Tricycles tumble off curb-sidewalks; swerving cars run up over curb-side walks.

The expense and hardship of installing sidewalks and rearranging existing lawn plantings will, I am sure, be more than justified by the feeling of satisfaction that will result from providing maximum safety conditions for our friends and neighbors and their children.

Quick Trip

Took a trip through Oregon, California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, and Minnesota, Wisconsin to Ironwood, Michigan from Jan. 7 to 18 with one lay over. Highways are very good. You travel around and around, high and low, east, west, north and south with an occasional dip or bump and straight roads ahead to an altitude of 6795 feet.

Some have four lanes with a space between of oleanders, palms and various trees. Railroad fences fruit trees, of all kinds, ranches, farms, cotton and cornfields, small towns and cities are seen, with numerous stores and cabins.

Scenery through mountains was very beautiful with tops and sides covered with snow and trees showing through the snow, with deep valleys below.

Oregon roses and asters were blooming when we left California, warm New Mexico, Arizona, gathering oranges by wagon load. Snow showed on mountains in New Mexico and showed snow balance of trip. In Michigan snow was up to 3 feet banked on both sides of highway.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Just Around —

With a great deal of disappointment I finally concluded, as I stood washing dishes the other evening, that children just don't notice their mothers much, as long as their food is served up at the right time, toys are accessible, someone's around to give them an occasional cookie, and their favorite television program is turned on. Actually, I was feeling pretty sorry for myself anyway, since everyone else was in the living room having fun, while I was out in the kitchen, which in our big, old apartment is like being at some outpost of civilization.

"After all," I thought as I went from washing to drying, "one would think a four year old would notice something different about her mother. Maybe she just isn't as observing as other little girls. No, that's impossible — she simply observes everything except her mother, that's it."

DOLEFULLY, I HUNG up the dish towel, turned out the light, and went into the living room. No one looked up as I entered. Bob didn't take his eyes off of the television and the children went on playing with their paper dolls. I could have walked in on my hands, clicking castanets with my toes and not one would have noticed. It was Bridget's bedtime, so off she and I went, after a word of warning to Megan that it was time for her to go too. From the hall, I heard the stinging words, "Please, Mama, I have to see 'Lucy'—you know I love 'Lucy'!"

"What's 'Lucy' got that I haven't got?", I called back. Bob chuckled, but Megan paid no attention.

Following a quick hands and face washing, Bridget was zipped into her "sack," tucked under her blanket and kissed goodnight. I turned the light out and reentered the living room carrying Megan's pajamas. While her attention was focused completely on 'Lucy' and her amusing antics, I proceded to take off Megan's overalls and blouse and get her heady for bed. The only recognition I received throughout this undressing process was a "Look out, Mama!", when I carelessly let my head get in front of the TV set. "Johnny" appeared on the screen to call for Phillip Morris, and I took Megan's hand and led her off to the bathroom.

AS IS MY USUAL CUSTOM, while she brushes her teeth, I started to undress and get into my pajamas and robe. Suddenly, I noticed that she had stopped brushing her teeth and was looking at me, most intently.

I asked, "What is the matter, dear?"

"You sure are getting fat, Mama!" At some other time I might have become most indignant at hearing these words from my young daughter, but that night they were music to my ears —she finally had noticed the change, which to me had been most apparent since the beginning of the month.

I said, "Yes, I certainly am," and went on preparing for bed. This didn't satisfy her.

* * *

"WHY ARE YOU GETTING SO FAT, Mama?" she inquired. Basking in the glory of all this attention, I hesitated to tell her and perhaps end it all.

However, I casually replied. "Because we're going to have a new baby." It took a while, but she got the idea all by herself.

"Mama," she said unbelievingly, "is the baby in your stomach?"

"Yes, sweetheart, it is."

Apparently, the idea didn't seem too strange to her, for excitedly she insisted on listening to my abdomen to hear if the baby was crying! I explained that we couldn't hear the baby cry, but sometime we might be able to feel it move. As we walked together to her bedroom, she asked, "When will we see the baby?"

"Oh, when summer is here—around the end of June—when it's hot outside and we wear sunsuits and go to the beach." She was satisfied now and ready to kiss me goodnight and snuggle down under the covers. I was glowing like a first-time-mother-to-be as I whispered, "Sweet dreams, darling," slipped out and quietly closed the door behind me.

My love,
Patty.

Take Latest News Of Home To Hawaii

Among the pleasurable experiences that Editor S. R. Paddock had in Hawaii was the opportunity to talk about the old home town to Miss Ruth Dale, who was assistant high school principal of Arlington Heights high school forty years ago and to Mrs. J. H. Toynton, whose husband was a former Palatine druggist and village clerk.

Miss Dale had a copy of the graduation program of AHTHS of 1912 the four graduates being George F. Schneberger, Ralph Allison, Gertrude Fehlman and Nellie Perry. Other former pupils of whom she inquired were George Klehm, Esther Stange, William F. Meyer, Paul Davis and David Paddock.

Miss Dale and her sister reside on a large bluff on the outskirts of Honolulu and have an excellent view of the mountains. She said it is as near Paradise as can be imagined on this earth.

Mrs. Toynton went to Hawaii two years ago with the family of an army colonel, whose station is near the Waikiki Beach and the fine residential section of the city. She is the sister of Mrs. Martin Plate.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

We feel just a little as though our ears had been pinned back. There is no doubt whatsoever as to the outcome of the high school issue. It wasn't even close and we are in the unhappy process smiling grimly as we congratulate the winners and eating up a lot of our words in private. C'est la guerre, c'est la vie.

A person never appreciates his good luck until he finds someone who has worse luck. There are times when all parents would gladly give their obstreperous offspring away to any passing trader. There are days when we wondered why we thought a big family was such a peachy idea.

So we read the article on the front page of last week's Herald concerning the blind children and their school plight and promptly hid our head from shame. There is nothing wrong with our little darlings that age won't cure. Bless those mothers who just want their handicapped little ones to take a regular place in the scheme of things. All they want for their children is for them to be perfectly normal and fine citizens. And that's all we want too.

The Puerto Ricans who are continually taking pot shots at some member of the United States government and then shouting how they want their freedom would be laughable if they didn't hurt anyone. Unfortunately, every time they start letting off their little pistols they manage to either kill someone or wound them horribly. This last group who whooped it up in the House, weren't even aiming at anyone as far as we can tell. They just went where there were the most government personages gathered and let fly. And then they have the nerve to shout that they wanted their freedom. What a peculiar way to go about getting it. We trust that such freedom that they DID enjoy will now be taken completely from them. They didn't know liberty when it was right in front of them. And, they certainly didn't help out their country either. We, for one, are inclined to view the Puerto Ricans with a slightly jaundiced eye from now on.

Saw a wonderful flub on TV today. A big picture of the Red Cross emblem was flashed on the screen and a gloomy voice from somewhere urged us all to give till it hurt to the National Heart Fund. The lad is obviously in a rut.

Driver of this auto is in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, with several broken ribs, which resulted when the car went out of control on Central rd. last week, Thursday. Mrs. Nick Eberhardt, 5 N. Waverly, Mount Prospect, told County police she was forced off the road by another car as it was passing a third car. The car went out of control as he attempted to get back on the pavement. Neither of the other cars stopped. Arlington Fender and Body shop cleared the wreckage. —Staff Photo.

CinemaScope will arrive Sunday at the Arlington Theater when "The Robe" begins a full week's run. Seven men started at midnight Monday of last week and worked to 4 p. m. the next day until the huge 17x38' screen was installed. The theater had previously been remodeled to accomodate the screen.

New four track sound system, wall speakers and anamorphic lenses were included in the project, to be used in "The Robe" for the first time Sunday. The large screen will not affect the showing of 3-D pictures, however, with glasses still necessary for that type of film.

Newsstand Of The Week

Ready to serve newsstand buyers at Duerkop's Pharmacy in Bensenville's ShoppingCenter are the three persons above, Katherine Panagiotaros, Mrs. Phyllis Miller and Sidney P. Hart Sr. Owner John Duerkop purchased the business nine years ago after World War II from Otto L. Kresnicka, then moved to the new shopping center in August of '52.

Serving as one of the three pharmacists is Mr. Hart, with Quentin Skouland, another who has been at Duerkop's since 1947. He previously served residents in the old Bensenville Pharmacy. Katherine and Phyllis are sales clerks who help sell hundreds of copies of Paddock Publications each week.

Death Notices

IN MEMORIAM

Gieseke—1st Lt. Wilbert H. Gieseke, U.S.M.C. March 8, 1945
In deepest memory of our dear son and brother.
Nine years ago today, dear Wilbert,
Our Blue star turned to gold.
God's will, not ours was done
Somewhere above this troubled world,
Safe beyond all grief and care,
Our boy rests in heavenly peace.
God grant someday we'll meet him there.
Loving Mom, Dad,
brothers, sisters-in-law,
and nieces.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dear mother, Adelheid Koebbeman, who passed away 25 years ago, March 6, 1929
She dwells in God's beautiful garden,
The sunshine of perfect peace;
Her life a beautiful memory
Her absence a silent grief.

IN MEMORIAM

He bid no one a last farewell,
He said goodbye to none;
His loving heart has ceased to beat—
Before we knew it, he was gone.

His heart was true and tender
He worked hard for those he left
And ever will be remembered.

In loving memory of our husband and father, who passed away one year ago, March 8th.

CARD OF THANKS

The people of Wood Dale and neighboring areas have been so helpful to me following my recent bereavement that I want to write this note of appreciation to all of them. At first I wondered if I ever would be able to keep my little ones with me and still provide for their needs, but now I feel reassured, for I have had such convincing proof from so many that I will not be alone in facing my task. My heartfelt thanks to all the individuals, many of them anonymous, who were so generous; to the Lions, the American Legion, the Salvation Army, and the various other local organizations who have helped to span the difficult weeks until I can receive insurance compensation.
Gratefully yours,
Elizabeth Large

Property Owners Kind Landlords To Bird Tenants

There's no housing shortage in the bird world because few human landlords have the heart to evict their feathered friends from tree homes, even where the house needs repairing.

Davey tree experts have never had a property owner ask them to remove a branch or treat a cavity where a bird was nesting. And it is company policy to always inform a customer if tree treatment will involve dispossessing birds.

For example, take the case where a robin built a nest atop the partially-open screen door of a house at Congress Lake, Ohio. Rather than disturb the nesting bird, the home owner had a new door cut in the house, in place of a porch window.

Then there is the case of the wren that moved into the pocket of a sweater hanging on the clothesline. The sweater was left on the line until the wren flew away in the fall.

When an industrious flicker drilled a hole for its nest in the trunk of a tree being treated by Davey surgeons, the tree owner promptly decided to let the surgery go until after the bird moved out.

This high regard for the vested rights of nesting birds is well established as a point of unwritten law. Never a season goes by without well documented stories of birds that have successfully immobilized everything from road rollers to draw bridges by selecting odd places as homesites.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Perhaps the word "luck" is among the most misused words in our language. It is used to denote happenings unrelated to cause and effect, things that a person has not earned, or which he does not necessarily deserve.

People often say of a woman who has married wealth, "She is a lucky girl"; of a man who has become wealthy: "what a lucky guy!" Of someone who has succeeded in his life work to the extent of affluence: "He was just plain lucky!"

PEOPLE OFTEN tell me I am "Lucky" I can write. Believe me, writing success, no matter how small it may be, is never luck. It is the result of effort, of long hours of keeping busy, of heartbreaking experiences with stories one knows are good, stories that have taken weeks or months to prepare which fail to sell—why, only God knows. I wrote over a hundred stories in a period of two years before my first one sold — for two dollars!

I know a woman who is fortunate in growing plants. "It must be wonderful to have such wonderful luck with flowers," a woman told her. Luck? The woman with the "green thumb" spent weeks—even years, learning what it takes in light, temperature, fertilizers and soil to make each particular kind of flower grow.

A FRIEND of mine on a moderate salary, bought a home several years ago. Some of his acquaintances commented upon how lucky" he now is to have his home paid for. They do not know that for years his family used kerosene lamps to save electricity; a coal stove to save gas; that the husband and his wife did not buy a suit of clothes or a dress for 20 years. Yet they are "lucky" because their home is clear of indebtedness.

"Luck" is a word which helps salve the ego of those who have never sacrificed to get ahead, and who consequently envy those who have. "Luck" is the word these people use to describe the success of people who have studied hard, long hours, practiced self discipline learned "how to make friends and influence people" who could help them.

"Luck" is the ability to foresee danger and opportunity, to overcome or escape the first and to grasp the second. "Luck" is the ability to learn through experience, and to apply that knowledge to life.
